NAVY WINS, 6-0, FROM ARMY

Two Goals Kicked From the Field Secures Game for Annapolis

Cabinet and Military Officers See Rivals in Their Annual Battle

FINAL SCORE:

Navy 6 Army 0

FRANKLIN FIELD, Pa., Nov. 30.—Two goals from placement by Brown gave the navy a stirring victory over the army in the annual contest on Franklin field this afternoon, by the score of 6 to 0. Both goals came in the latter part of the game. Only once was either goal line in danger, when the army blocked a navy kick that rolled perilously near the Annapolis goal line. The army showed much more offensive power, but the West Pointers were unable to keep up their rushing consistently enough to carry the ball over the navy goal line. The punting of both teams was about equal. The game was cleanly played, there being but four fumbles during the contest.

The big picture football game of the season was favored with ideal weather. The sky was clear of clouds and the crispness of the air was tempered by a brilliant sun. Both teams were ready for the fray and a record crowd was on hand to see the struggle. While a box had been reserved for the President of the United States, in the center of the field, on the army side, that did not attend the game. The secretary of the navy and the assistant secretary of war, with large parties of friends, were on hand to cheer their favorites.

BROADWAY LOT BOUGHT TO ENLARGE BANK BUILDING

Oakland Bank of Savings Purchaser of Stanford Property

An interesting piece of news in real estate circles has just come to light showing that the real purchaser of the Broadway property just above Twelfth street was the Oakland Bank of Savings.

The announcement was made a few days ago that Charles Jurgens had bought from the Helen M. Stanford estate the property, 45x100 feet, on the east side of Broadway, adjoining the Oakland Bank of Savings building on the north. The premises are occupied by the Pierce Hardware Company, which has a lease which still runs one year and a half. It was stated at the time that the price paid for the property was over $4000 per front foot.

The fact is that the property was bought for the Oakland Bank of Sav-

WOMAN IS HEROINE OF FIRE

Helps Out 100 Guests When Oakland Hotel Is Attacked by Flames

Scores of Scantily-Attired Roomers Flee From Early Morning Blaze

Fire, which started in the kitchen of the Slavich Restaurant, 425 Thirteenth street, shortly before 3 o'clock this morning, spread to the rear of the St. Charles Hotel, 427 Thirteenth street, and sent two fire roasters, in various stages of undress, scurrying for safety. Many escaped through a rear entrance of the St. Charles into the rear of the Globe Hotel, 1113 Broadway, and thence gained the street.

Guests in both hotels were aroused by the firemen and police and led through smoke-clogged hallways to the street, where they stood shivering in the cold of the early morning, watching the firemen at work. Over 100 guests in all were driven into the streets for a short time, until the firemen had confined the flames to the rear of the restaurant and the St. Charles Hotel, and had succeeded in bringing comparative safety to the adjoining hotel.

WOMAN IS HEROINE. Miss M. Lehman, proprietress of the St. Charles, proved herself a heroine. Miss Lehman was one of the first to awake to the sound of crackling flames. She awakened one of her guests and sent him to turn in an alarm, and then went from room to room through the smoke and flames, arousing the 42 guests.

Son of Mayor Wilson Dies; Diphtheria Attack Is Cause

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—Melotte Wilson, son of Mayor Wilson, died today of diphtheria. The boy had been ill a little over a week, but it was believed last evening by the physicians that the crisis had been passed and early this morning he seemed to be slightly improved. Later, however, his condition took a sudden turn for the worse and death ensued a little before 12 o'clock. It is now feared that Mrs. Wilson, wife of the Mayor, has also contracted the disease and the attending physicians are making a close study of symptoms which have disclosed themselves in her. Mrs. Wilson has been a constant nurse of her son and it is feared that she has caught the disease from him. The Mayor's home has been quarantined for

MRS. WALL LOSES GIRLS

Court Gives Custody of the Two Children to Alameda Capitalist

Mother Collapses at Verdict; Attempted Bribery Charge Dropped

Mrs. Ruth Ewing Wall, whose marital troubles with Edward Wall, the Alameda capitalist, reached a climax today after a sensational airing in the divorce courts, collapsed in the corridors of the court-house following the decree of Superior Judge Harris that her two girls should be given into the custody of their father. Her decree of divorce which she obtained from Edward Wall last May was modified by the court so that she will no longer have control over the children.

After sitting stoically throughout the pronouncing of judgment by the court, Mrs. Wall retired into the corridors at adjournment. She closely followed her sister, Mrs. Mary F. Wilson, who had testified against her.

Outside the door, Mrs. Wall broke into sobs, crying to her sister: "I will kill you." Then she moaned, "How could she do it, how could she do it?" referring to the testimony of Mrs. Wilson.

Attorney James W. Cochran, representing Mrs. Wall and who secured her interlocutory decree for her last May, escaped with a severe censoring by Judge Harris and Wells for the part he is alleged to have taken in the proceedings. He was accused by Mrs. Wilson in an affidavit of having taken $100 from her representing that he would prevent publicity of the case and insure favorable action in the divorce from Judge Harris.

JUDGES SIT EN BANC. As a result, when the affidavit was presented in court during the hearing of Wall's petition to have the decree of divorce modified so that he would have custody of the children, a week ago, Judge Harris asked Superior Judge W. S.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 30.—The Mongolian city of Kobdo has been occupied by the Chinese troops without resistance from the inhabitants, according to a dispatch to the Novoye Vremya from Urga, the capital of Mongolia.

The tribesmen in the vicinity laid down their arms willingly. They had been supplied with weapons and ammunition by the people of the Khalka country. When the Chinese troops arrived they even found that the people had prepared a succession of camps for their accommodation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Red tape in the United States Senate has been abolished. By direction of Secretary Bennett not an inch of the historic tape was purchased this year and to the surprise of returning Senators they are being compelled to transact their official business with a delicate shade of blue tape which the secretary has selected as a suitable substitute.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Losing his balance while at work on a scaffold surrounding the light-well of the new Colonial hotel, Bush and Monroe streets, Albin Peterson, a painter, plunged seven stories to a court this morning and was instantly killed. Peterson was employed by his brother, Martin Peterson, the contractor in charge of the work, and on the staging with him was Carl Wickhorn. The latter saw his companion reel, but despite his effort to save him Peterson fell. Wickhorn was so unnerved by his experience that he had to be taken to his home. Peterson was 42 years old.

WOULD HAVE S. F. TAKE OVER SPRING VALLEY

Action Necessary to Acquire Hetch-Hetchy Permit, Says Fisher

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Secretary Fisher today told representatives of San Francisco at today's Hetch-Hetchy hearing that he would require the city to take over the Spring Valley Water Company of California before he would issue a permit allowing San Francisco to go into the Hetch-Hetchy valley for its water supply. The secretary further declared that it would be an unwise and unsound public policy to grant a permit for a water supply on a government reservation as a substitute for a source which already exists.

Austro-Hungary and Serbia Continue Their Warlike Preparations

LONDON, Nov. 30.—News has been received in Vienna that peace between Turkey and the Balkan allies will be signed on Monday by the plenipotentiaries at Baghtche, according to a news agency dispatch from the Austrian capital.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—A slight relaxation of tension in the international political situation came today with the optimistic announcement from official sources in Constantinople that the negotiations between the Bulgarian and Turkish plenipotentiaries at the village of Baghtche are likely to result in a speedy signature being written to the terms of an armistice.

The real menace to European peace, however, in the shape of the Austro-Serbian difficulty still persists. The assertions of the rulers of Austro-Hungary and Russia, the two great empires most immediately concerned, that they desire to maintain peace, have not put an end to their preparations for war.

Diplomats feel that once the present war has been ended and the allied Balkan nations are in a position to calculate their gains, there will be a much better chance of bridging the gulf at present separating Austro-Hungary and Serbia. It is thought generally that Bulgaria would then be in a better situation to bring her influence to bear in favor of a compromise.

SLAUGHTER TURKS.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—"I am informed on unimpeachable authority," says the Times correspondent at Saloniki, "that the Bulgarian irregular troops left in charge of Kavala after its surrender some time ago, alleging that the Moslems had plotted a massacre, arrested 150 of the Turks and slaughtered them, mostly with bayonets, outside the town. This action was taken in spite of promises to protect the lives of citizens."

"The irregulars further accuse the massacre by alleging that the Turkish burned several villages before the entrance of the Bulgarians into the town of Prizma, that 150 Christian families perished and that a number of leading Jews had been arrested and PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—It is generally believed that the United States has taken an important part in exercising a soothing influence upon Europe. The influence for which France is particularly appreciative. France, it is learned, has accepted in principle the suggestion of Sir Edward Grey that a meeting of the ambassadors of the great powers should be called in one of the European capitals for the discussion of questions arising out of the Balkan situation. The best manner in which the idea has been received by the powers and especially in Berlin, is regarded here as a very hopeful sign.

A striking feature of the crisis has been the unity of France and Germany in all the efforts directed toward calming the warlike feeling that has been displayed in different sections of Europe.

TOBACCO IMPORT STOPPED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The Balkan war virtually stopped importation of tobacco from Turkey to this city, but there is no fear that the Turkish cigarette will cease to be or that the price will be raised. Turkish cigarettes are always prepared for emergencies by having a two years' supply of Turkish leaf stored away. Just now there are about 300,000 bales piled up in bonded warehouses in this city. The best Turkish tobacco comes from Macedonia in the district about Mahallah. Real Mahallah or Vicia leaf costs as high as $2.50 a pound. The duty on all Turkish tobacco is 35 cents a pound.

HUNDREDS FLEE IN HOTEL BLAZE

Woman Is Heroine of Early Morning Fire in Thirteenth Street.

On the second and third stories of the hotel, a family in one of the rooms just over the fire, where the flames were already flickering in through the windows, and the carpets were smoking, considered by the danger in which they were placed. Miss Lehman grasped the six-month-old infant from the bed, and wrapping the child in a blanket, led the mother and father to safety.

Accompanied by members of the fire department, Miss Lehman made her way again and again through the choking fumes of the hallways to make sure that all the roomers had been awakened and rescued. In two instances she was forced to find the way to the rooms, and directed the firemen to break down the doors when they received no response from within the rooms.

ORIGIN IS UNKNOWN.
The origin of the fire is unknown. It started in a small shed in the rear of the hotel, which was used as a kitchen and storeroom for the caterers. The shed was at the bottom of a light well formed by the back walls of several large buildings, among them being the St. Charles Hotel.

The shed kitchen was entirely destroyed, and a portion of the storehouse of the restaurant, as well as the rear of the dining-room. J. S. Kavacovich, proprietor of the restaurant, estimates the damage to his place and to the stock at about $200.

The flames swept up the rear of the hotel, entering three rooms on the second floor and two on the third. Firemen arrived at about 2:30 a. m. and the fire was extinguished. The damage to the hotel was estimated at about $700. The losses are covered by insurance.

WINDOWS ARE BROKEN.
The business block in which the fire occurred is owned by Charles Jungens. The damage is estimated at about $200. The fire did not spread to the Globe Hotel, and there was but little damage to the building and water. All the windows of the three stories of the Hotel St. Charles were broken.

Fireman George Carter was one of the first to discover the fire, and turned on an alarm. Several fire companies responded. Night Captain J. F. Lynch turned to the men with a posse of firemen and started in combating the flames to safety and in connection therewith had occupied with but a meager supply of garments with clothes, and in going back the crowd in the streets, Charles Hook also assisted in saving the guests.

'HIGHER-UPS SOUGHT': BURNS

Detective Explains Delay in Arresting J. B. McNamara for Times Explosion

Woman Testifies She Was Warned to Keep Quiet About Indianapolis Job

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 30.—Questions why James B. McNamara, dynamiter of the Los Angeles Times building, was not arrested until five months after his identity became known were put by attorneys for the defense at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today to Raymond J. Burns, son of the detective who managed the arrest.

Raymond Burns had testified that he had learned of McNamara's guilt on November 2, 1910, one month and one day after twenty-one persons were killed at Los Angeles, and that on November 8 his operatives got in personal touch with the dynamiter, afterward "shadowing" him for a month in the Wisconsin woods. The arrest followed on April 12, 1911.

"You say you knew early in November that the man in the Wisconsin woods shadowed by your men was the dynamiter of the Times building? Why did you not arrest McNamara right there and then?" asked Attorney William N. Harkin.

"Because we were trying to get the men really responsible for the explosion," answered the witness.

"You mean men higher up in the union?"

"Yes, sir."

"You say you knew at the time that Orrie E. McManigal caused explosions at Peoria, Ill., and Indiana Harbor, Ind. He was on his way from San Francisco to Los Angeles when the Times building was blown up and the next day he was employed by the mayor of Los Angeles to trace the dynamiters."

Burns testified that on the day after the Times explosion he told Mayor Alexander of Los Angeles that J. J. McNamara and Orrie E. McManigal were behind the disaster. He also said McManigal was behind a plot to kill him (Burns).

Burns related this as parts of conversation he had with Herbert S. Hokin. Burns said he pressed Hokin for "men higher up" in the plot, saying there were bigger men than J. J. McNamara, but Hokin had said none of the other officials of the iron workers' union, except Eugene Clancy, were aware of what J. J. did with the union's funds.

Burns said he paid Hokin's expenses in "shadowing" the dynamiter. Hokin was named by McNamara as an organizer of the "dynamite crew."

WOMAN THREATENED.

Threats of death for telling about explosions were related by Mrs. Alta M. Hawkins at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today. Mrs. Hawkins, attended by a nurse and suffering from injuries received in a recent shooting, was carried into court on a cot.

Mrs. Hawkins testified that a few days before the explosion of the Times building she was the property of Albert von Spreckelsen, in Indianapolis, in 1908, she was told by Ernest G. W. Boney, an iron workers' union official, that something was going to happen on jobs where non-union workers were employed.

"He told me to look in the newspapers the next day and read about it," said Mrs. Hawkins. "In the papers I saw nothing. Then he told me it did not come off that night, but to watch the papers the next day and about midnight heard the explosion. Boney called me up on the telephone and told me I must keep my mouth shut. He said that if I did not I would be killed."

The witness said she was shot several weeks ago while hunting.

CALLS HOKIN SPY.

Raymond J. Burns, who said he knew the identity of the Los Angeles Times dynamiter five months before the arrest, told today of more conversations he said he had with Herbert S. Hokin, indicted secretary of the Iron Workers' Union. Burns described Hokin as a "spy" within the ranks of the union officials.

"In February, 1911, Hokin again met me in Chicago," said Burns. "I inquired for details about the Los Angeles explosion. Hokin said he had learned that Orrie E. McManigal of San Francisco was paying money to M. A. Schmidt through Ed Nockels, a union official in Chicago. McManigal himself was taking care of David Gahan (Caplan) and Schmidt were the ones who, Hokin said, had helped J. B. McNamara blow up the Times building."

"Hokin also stated that in the previous November J. J. McNamara had met McManigal at St. Louis, when it was arranged that 'the money' be sent to Los Angeles. The next month I told Hokin there had been some other explosions about the country and I asked about them. He said he knew nothing of them."

PLANNED DETECTIVE'S DEATH.

Burns also described "shadowing" J. B. McNamara and McManigal to Toledo and Detroit, where he, with other operatives, arrested the dynamiter on April 12, 1911.

"When Hokin told you McManigal and John Johansson were planning to blow up J. J. Burns in San Francisco or Seattle by putting a bomb in his room, did Hokin tell you the source of his information?" asked Attorney William N. Harkin for the defense.

Hokin told me he had learned from J. J. McNamara that they were planning to get rid of J. J. Burns on the Pacific coast. W. J. was then still on the coast investigating the Times explosion."

Burns next related how he "lost" McManigal, who meantime had caused another explosion at Los Angeles, and all grades, were in the boxes or scattered through the stands by the hundreds.

It was the seventeenth gridiron contest between the two arms of the national service. Of the 16 games played since 1890, the navy has won eight while the army has been victor in seven, and in 1905 a tie game was played.

There was a lot of excitement early today in a big Broad-street hotel, where the navy team was quartered, due to a little smoldering fire in the basement. Some smoke found its way through the hotel and the navy team, the veteran trainer, who, it is said, never sleeps the night before the big game, got a whiff of it and quickly went from room to room and woke the boys. They were ordered to dress and await developments. The blaze did not amount to anything, and the players, after having been congregated in a hall for a while, returned to bed.

The hotel was crowded with guests and many of them, awakened by the smoke, hurriedly dressed and went to the ground floor. The hotel management assured them there was no danger and things soon quieted down.

ARMY MULE APPEARS.

Both teams were given a rousing cheer as they ran upon the field. While the cheering was going on a big black army mule, wearing a blanket on which were the words "Blind Movement," was led around the field by a man in a military uniform. The army stands broke into tremendous cheering. A few minutes later, however, the navy contingent broke into applause as a goat, led by a plebe, appeared upon the field. The arrival of the goat, which the goat that had done duty for years having died.

The army won the toss and selected the west goal with a stiff wind at their backs.

Burns kicked off to the army's 25-yard line. On the first line-up Keyes went around the navy's right end to 40 yards. Keyes and Benedict advanced to the 25-yard line, where Keyes tried a field goal. The officials, after a conference, decided it was no good, much to the disgust of the West Pointers. The ball was put in play on the 20-yard line in the navy's possession. Hobbbs punted over the navy goal line for a touchback. McGraw gained five yards through center and then planted the ball on the 40-yard line. On a fake kick formation Benedict got six yards through the navy's left tackle and on the next line-up Hobbbs punted to the navy's 45-yard line. Time was called at the end of the first period. Score: NAVY, 0; ARMY, 0.

SECOND PERIOD.
A blocked kick rolled to the navy's 15-yard line, where an army man fell on the ball, but the navy recovered it on a fumble on its 17-yard line. A punt carried play to the army's 24-yard line. With one down to spare and seven yards to go, the army punted to the navy's 31-yard line.

Leonard, in attempting to go around the army's right side, lost five yards and the navy was penalized 15 yards.

NAVY, 0; ARMY, 0.

THIRD PERIOD.
ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 30.—Keyed up to high pitch of enthusiasm over the season's big game between the army and navy at Philadelphia this afternoon, the brigade of midshipmen, 800 strong, led here this morning in special training for the game of the contest. Each member carried a blue and gold megaphone and a navy flag. The mascot of the team, a big white goat, was carried along in the baggage compartment of the first train.

NAVY, 0; ARMY, 0.

FOURTH PERIOD.
In the fourth period Langhitt took Keyes' place. Brown attempted a placement goal from the army's 45-yard line, which failed. From the cadets' 25-yard line the army made three yards through center and the navy was then penalized 15 yards. Benedict immediately punted to his own 45-yard line. McGraw made three yards through the army's center. Rodes was knocked out. When Rodes recovered the navy was penalized 15 yards for rough tackling.

Brown on a fake to make a kick for a field goal went around the army's left side for 20 yards, planting the ball on the army's 15-yard line. Rodes made four yards through left tackle and a punt later he carried the ball across the field without gaining, so as to bring it in front of the goal. With the ball in front of the goal posts it was planted down on the 23-yard line by Gilchrist and Brown kicked a beautiful goal from placement. Score: NAVY, 3; ARMY, 0.

With only a few minutes to play the army resorted to the use of the forward pass, but could not gain with it. The final score was: NAVY, 3; ARMY, 0.

It was said a large amount of money was buried with Kincaid's body, in accordance with the terms of his will.

REGIN RECOUNT OF
SOUTHERN PRECINCT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—At the request of the Democratic Judge Craig of the Superior Court, back a recount of county precinct 416. This is the last of the precincts in which the results of the presidential election were disputed, and when it is completed it is expected that little change from the present totals announced by County Clerk Leonard two weeks ago will be shown.

Leaders of both Progressive and Democratic county committees admitted today that California's electoral college would be split with the Progressive rec-yards for holding. The navy immediately kicked to the army's 47-yard line. Pritchard broke through the navy's center for three yards and on the next line-up Benedict added three yards more through the same hole. Hobbbs failed to gain and the army left end punted out of bounds on the navy's 23-yard line. Leonard carried the ball to midfield and McCreary planted the ball on the army's 45-yard line. Here the first forward pass was attempted, but it failed.

The navy then punted to the army's five-yard line. Hedman took Ralston's place in the navy line.

The army, with the ball on its five-yard line, bucked the line three times for a gain of four yards and was given five yards for off-side play in the navy line. Leonard punted through to West Point's 30-yard line, where time was called for the second period. Score: NAVY, 0; ARMY, 0.

THIRD PERIOD.
The army kicked off in the third period to the navy's 35-yard line and Leonard punted back to the army's 19-yard line. McGraw took Hobbbs' place and Rodes resumed playing for the navy.

The army could make little impression on the navy's line as it punted to West Point's 45-yard line. Rodes ran it back nine yards. A right wing shift failed to gain for the navy, but McCreary went through the West Point left to the 30-yard mark.

Brown of the navy then failed at a placement goal from the 35-yard line. The period ended with the ball in possession of the navy on the army's 38-yard line. Score: Army 0, navy 0.

REGIN RECOUNT OF
SOUTHERN PRECINCT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—At the request of the Democratic Judge Craig of the Superior Court, back a recount of county precinct 416. This is the last of the precincts in which the results of the presidential election were disputed, and when it is completed it is expected that little change from the present totals announced by County Clerk Leonard two weeks ago will be shown.

Leaders of both Progressive and Democratic county committees admitted today that California's electoral college would be split with the Progressive rec-

THREE FORMER FEDERAL OFFICIALS ARE INDICTED

H. L. Ford Accused of Thirteen Specific Acceptances of Bribes

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The longest indictment ever returned to the United States District Court here was brought before Judge De Haven by the Federal grand jury today. In 15,000 words and more, grouped under 13 counts, it charges Henry L. Ford, former United States commissioner at Eureka, with 13 specific acceptances of bribes and with other misconduct in office.

Simultaneous indictments, connected with the same case, were returned against J. A. Prentice, formerly deputy United States marshal, and William I. Murphy, formerly county clerk of Del Norte county, charging conspiracy. District Attorney McNab said the government had a strong case and would press it hard. Bond was fixed for Ford in the sum of $2000 on the first count and $500 each on the remaining counts, making $18,000 in all, which was supplied. Prentice and Murphy gave $2000 security each.

The story on which the jury returned the indictments is that Prentice and Murphy, acting in agreement with Ford, traveled through the Smith River country, making friends with saloonkeepers, whom they later induced to sell drinks to Indians. On payment of $100 bribe each, the testimony ran, Commissioner Ford would agree to act as attorney for the defendant and to quash the indictments against them when the cases came before him as commissioner.

No Word Spoken by Man And Wife for 11 Years

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The story of eleven years of married life, during which not a word was exchanged between husband and wife, is told in papers on file here in a separation suit in the state Supreme Court. The pair, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mintz, were married in 1884. For thirteen years they lived happily together with their four children. Eleven years ago they quarreled. The dispute was over some trivial matter, it is said, but the wife declared that she would never address another word to her husband so long as she lived. He declared that the arrangement was satisfactory to him. Mrs. Mintz asserts that both adhered to the agreement. Seven years ago their daughter Dorothy died, but even at the funeral service the vow of silence was not broken. Mintz is now seeking a separation.

TRAIL OF BLOOD COVERS 20 YEARS

RUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 20.—The accidental killing of a man in Lowell, Mass., twenty years ago, was given last night by John Frank Hickey in a signed confession as the starting point of a career of debauchery and crime, during which he murdered two boys and assaulted many others.

Hickey's victims, according to his confession, were Ed Morey of Lowell, Mass., poisoned twenty years ago; Michael Kruck, 12 years old, a New York newspaper, strangled in Central park in 1902; and Joseph Joseph, the 7-year-old son of George Joseph, a merchant of Lackawanna, killed in a similar manner, October 12, 1911.

"The details of Hickey's last two crimes are too revolting to make public," said District Attorney Dudley.

"Hickey is apparently a man with a dual personality. He is intelligent. He is overcome with remorse and says again and again that he can't comprehend what possessed him to commit the crimes. He asserts that he became a maniac only when filled with whiskey."

Healthy Mothers

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its prenatal work the child finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rear- ing of her child.

ARTFUL DODGERS MUST BE HOTEL OAKLAND WAITERS

Mathematics and Juggling Enter Into Plans for Big Opening Dinner

The mathematical problem involved in placing approximately 200 tables in the space that has been allotted for the opening dinner in the Hotel Oakland so that there will be neither crowding or confusion, and so that every waiter can operate in an exact 2-foot channel that will be unobstructed to the guests, has demonstrated the utility of a unique patented device that is the best friend of C. L. Petersen, the new maître d'hôtel.

If any more than 1100 people seated in the three dining-rooms of the Hotel Oakland, the fortunate ones may ascribe their luck to a quadrangular shaped board on which the dining-room space is exactly shown on the basis of an eighth of an inch to a foot. According to this scale, the dimensions of every table are also indicated with circular bits of blue cardboard on which appears the names of the guests who will sit at each particular table.

Through this novel invention every inch of available space is negotiated long before the dining-rooms themselves are open. The tables will be placed exactly as they have been figured on Petersen's checkerboard. Woe to any portly waiter, for only 3 feet of space has been allowed between certain tables, and through this space, and this alone, must the portly waiter move gingerly. If he loses his sense of direction in the maze of spotless dinner cloths and dazzling gowns, he is hopelessly lost, and he had better stand right still and yell for help.

One inch on Petersen's diagram has been left for a screen hiding the exit and another inch for a second orchestra. A half an inch is left in the center of the circle of every 20 tables so that the waiters may pass each other on a sort of slither-track.

MORE OF 'EM, AT THAT.

Petersen has still 20 tables to place, and he knows not what to do with them unless he strings them to the chandeliers. Positively not another eighth of an inch remains on his patented checkerboard and he cannot move the blue discs closer unless the waiters are strung to wires and shot across the room like the cash systems in the department stores. This idea has been suggested to Victor Rother by a few of the disappointed ones.

A sort of a dress rehearsal for the dinner will be given the night before to the 300 waiters, so that they will not be lost or get their individual rights of way mixed.

BONEYARD YIELDS 2 USEFUL BOATS

Brig Lurline and the Schooner Charles R. Wilson Have New Lease on Life.

After several years of idleness, the famous old brig Lurline, one of the oldest windjammers on the Pacific coast, was shifted from its quarters off East Oakland to a berth at the Pacific shipyards yesterday. When the vessel, which formerly operated in the sugar service between the islands and this port for Spreckels, was removed from that line and laid up it was generally believed that the famous old vessel's days were numbered and that it was only a question of how long it would be before it rotted and left her bones in the mud of the local inner harbor.

However, this belief was wrong, and next year when the fishing vessels leave for the northern banks, the Lurline will be one of the fleet.

Ding Lee, the Lurline's rest in the mud, practically every timber in its bottom has become worm eaten while other portions of the hull are beginning to show signs of decay. At the local yards of the Pacific company it was found upon investigation that a new bottom would have to be replanked before the craft can go to sea.

Repairs to other portions of the vessel will be necessary. The Lurline is one of the few brigs left on the Pacific coast. It is a vessel of 336 tons and in its time was one of the speediest sailers then in vogue.

When the schooner Charles R. Wilson was purchased two years ago by the Crowley Tugboat company of San Francisco it was under the name of the "East Oakland." Later the shortage of lightering bottoms made it necessary for the company to purchase the "Wilson" and for some months it operated in the capacity of a tugboat.

The Wilson will sail north in the near future to engage in the fishing industry for its new owners. The going time of the Wilson is expected to be long, bringing up the question as to the advisability of placing other vessels now in the boneyard into commission.

There were three brigs in the inner harbor during the past 24 hours. The departing ones included the Del Norte, the Commodore, the Albatross and the Albatross.

At Long Wharf there was but new arrival, the Daisy Gadsby, with lumber.

The board of directors of the alliance was also directed to combat by every lawful means the enactment of army federal laws, limiting the scope of present mining regulations or to enforce proposed leasing system of mineral lands.

NO BUYER ONCE AT $50, LAND NOW BRINGS $6400

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Nov. 30.—Foster county, North Dakota, has at least one man in the person of J. T. Halaas, who is glad he held onto a quarter section of North Dakota land even though the holding on was a matter of necessity rather than choice. Twenty-two years ago Mr. Halaas offered a fine quarter section of land in North Dakota township, Foster county, for $50, with an acre, but could find no buyer. A few days ago the same quarter was sold to Hans Johnson for $49 an acre, or $6400.

FARMER IS RENDERED SENSELESS BY HAWK

The hawk, which was about 10 feet long, and weighed 15 pounds, mistaking it, he thinks, for a pheasant.

SAY WATT SPENT NIGHT IN RESORT

Police Declare Missing Man Bought Wine in "Spider" Kelly's Place.

Spending money with both hands and acting the part of the man about town, William Watt, banker and cattleman of Napa, was last seen, according to the police, with a pretty Spanish girl known as Anita in Spider Kelly's dancehall, in Pacific street, late Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning. Within a few minutes the man had spent over $40 in purchasing wine for the Spanish dancer, and the waiters and attendants of the place told strange stories of the visit of the handsome stranger.

From the moment the man believed to be Watt left Spider Kelly's place, he has been lost to the police. It is believed that he must have made his way to some hotel or sanatorium, where he is concealed while recovering.

Relatives of Watt scout the idea that the missing man has been drinking, and cling to the theory that he was the victim of foul play, or that he may be held in ransom for a ransom. The police, however, are positive in their statements that Watt has been traced through several resorts, and that he has been drinking heavily.

AUTO FOUND IN SHED.

Watt's disappearance was reported to the police early this week, after his automobile had been found in a shed at the foot of Broadway, in this city. At that time he had been last seen when he left Don Lee's garage, Twenty-second and Broadway, a week ago yesterday. From that point the police traced him to the annexed district, where he stopped at a roadhouse in his machine, and back in Oakland again Friday night. He was next seen Saturday morning at First and Broadway, taking a train for Stockton. The Tuesday following he was seen in San Francisco on Market street in an automobile, about 3:30 in the afternoon.

Captain of Inspectors Lou F. Agnew spent several hours in San Francisco, working to pick up the trail again, and finally discovered that he had been at Peterson's saloon, Polson and Third streets, at that time. The girl described Watt was alone at the saloon, and had been drinking heavily, according to the bartender.

TRAIL IS FOUND.

Agnew spent several hours going from place to place. Roadhouses, saloons, cafes and Turkish baths were investigated. Finally, the police, the trail was picked up on the Battery Coast, and a man answering in every detail to the description of Watt was traced to Spider Kelly's.

Without showing the waiters and attendants of the place the detailed description of Watt, Captain Agnew asked that the man be described. They described the man in detail, and the descriptions tallied with that in the bulletins.

"Why, then, the guy that was buying wine for Anita last night, might be Watt," showed the picture. "Have Anita called."

A pretty Spanish dancer was brought to the office. She was told to describe the man who had been so lavish with his money Tuesday night. The girl described Watt, his clothes and even remembered the peculiar slight stutter characteristic of the man when he became excited.

"He was a good gink," she said. "He spent fifty bucks on me and slipped me a dinner, a dinner being underworld argot for $5."

Detectives who are working on the case from several detective bureaus state that Watt cannot evade being found much longer. They declare that the reward of $500 offered for information concerning the man will result in his being found.

Money is being spent open-handedly by the relatives of the missing man in the effort to locate him. Mrs. Elizabeth D. Watt, mother of the missing man, who is the widow of the late Robert Watt, a millionaire railroad man and capitalist, is prostrated with anxiety over the disappearance of her son. She has asked his friends to spare no expense in finding her son.

WEALTHY WOMAN TRIES TO STARVE TO DEATH

ALTON, Ill., Nov. 30.—Police broke into the home of Mrs. Johanna F. Blier after she had isolated herself for eighteen days, and found her almost starved to death.

Mrs. Blier is 35 years old and is separated from her husband. She lives in a six-room house at 711 Clement place. Some of the neighbors notified the police that Mrs. Blier had not been seen for many days.

Policeman Patrick and Mrs. Sophia Demuth, the police station, found the windows and doors were locked, but Fahrig pried a window open and admitted Mrs. Demuth. They found Mrs. Blier lying on a sofa, greatly emaciated.

Mrs. Blier ordered them out, but they called in neighbors to prepare food for her and sought her husband to urge him to have her partly inquired into.

"DEAR OLD BROADWAY" BLOCKED BY MOUSE

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Broadway was treated to a genuine thrill recently. Persons hit by street cars and pickpockets in the hands of the law no longer attract more than a passing glance on the Great White Way, but the incident sent persons scrambling from all directions to the center of disturbance until the sidewalk at Thirty-ninth street was blocked from the curb to the building line. Strikers came from the center of this crowd, and a mighty heaving to and fro marked the nucleus of the excitement.

"What is it? What's the trouble?" "Heads!" cried Madden, and the coin fell all up.

Finally the mob parted with a yell and men and boys tore across Broadway, snickling in excitement. "There he goes!"

and down in an effort to see over the heads of the mob, caught a glimpse of a scurrying mouse as it dodged a truck, ran under a trolley car, and finally disappeared down a sewer trap at the corner of the street.

GAMBLES TO OBTAIN PUBLIC CITY OFFICE

ODDENSEBURG, N. J., Nov. 30.—The loss of coin will make John P. Palmer, of Sparta, tax collector of that township. At the recent election Palmer and Postmaster John Madden each received 188 votes, and it was thought probable for a time that Palmer would ask for a recount. It was finally agreed that the 188 would count to have the ballots again counted would not be worth the effort, as the job was by no means a profitable one. The tied candidates met last night and Palmer said to Madden: "I'll tell you what we'll do—flip a coin to decide who is to get the job."

"I'm on," said Madden, and Palmer produced a 50 cent piece.

"Heads!" cried Madden, and the coin fell all up.

Palmer is now collector of taxes of Sparta township, but people are wondering whether Palmer is entitled to the job, as he got it "by gambling methods."

"Since the movies came home I have been to love them, and every night I walk to one of the shows and enjoy myself there as well as the children I see there."

REPORT OF BOOK SHORTAGE DENIED

State Printer F. W. Richardson Says False Tales Are Being Circulated.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 29.—There some book dealers in the state are endeavoring to create the impression that they cannot purchase California textbooks for distribution to the pupils of the elementary schools, for the purpose of "knocking" the free textbook plan, was the declaration made today by State Printer F. W. Richardson. Richardson says that this is a subterfuge that the state has books for sale and any dealer can get them.

J. B. Wood, principal of the Dinuba grammar school, wrote Richardson announcing that the pupils on the school were unable to purchase books from the "book" dealers, the dealers saying there is a shortage of books.

"This is not the first instance that I have run across," said Richardson, "where the book dealers have made the statement that they were unable to buy books. In the past district some are giving out this report. This action is taken for the reason that the dealers are afraid the free text book amendment will cause them some loss. There is not the slightest chance for a loss in my judgment. The legislature will provide for taking over all the books held by the dealers."

In the office of the state superintendent of public instruction show that there are now half a million books on hand in the state warehouses.

IMPROVERS LAY PLANS FOR REAL 'SPOTLESS CITY'

Vernon Heights Boosters Hear Lecture of Wilbur Walker

There will not be an objectionable weed, a low-hanging bow, a broken sidewalk, a ramshackle fence or a rat in the roadway within the precincts of the Vernon Heights and Lake Shore Improvement Club within a short time and that part of the city will have the appearance of a "Spotless Town" if the present plans of club members are put into execution.

Heretofore when the improvement club has convened the meetings have been attended by men only. Last night the women were called in the cause for the first time in the history of the organization. A meeting was held in the assembly hall of Miss Horton's school, at Perkins and Palm streets, Vernon Heights. In order that those present might conceive some idea of how their neighborhood should appear and what its relative beauty to the rest of Alameda county should be, Wilbur Walker, who helped to make California famous in Eastern cities with his wonderful lecture on climate, scenery and industries, was present with his stereoscopic views, as a special feature of the meeting. Maurice Stewart, handling the mechanical end of the lecture with pleasing effect while all listened attentively to the words of the exposition commander in chief.

MEETING IS INNOVATION.

The meeting was called to order by President Harry East Miller. He turned the gavel over to Theo. F. Dredge, who acted as chairman of the evening. President Miller spoke briefly, stating that the meeting was an innovation because of the presence of women. Chairman Dredge at once suggested that smoking be allowed, and there being no objection, things took a smooth course which remained consistent throughout.

"The object of improvement clubs is to beautify the neighborhood in which it exists, to remedy and to keep a watchful eye on everything pertaining to its welfare," said Chairman Dredge. "We must not only make our own property attractive for our personal benefit, but we must contribute to the general beautification so that strangers will want to make their home here."

Charles G. Yale, designated as the "father of improvement clubs in Oakland," told of earlier days when people in different neighborhoods organized for the purpose of enforcing some desired improvement.

"One of the greatest detriments to any district in the city is the appearance of weeds in vacant lots," said Yale. "They are an eyesore everywhere and it is one of the first problems with which we now have to deal. A man may keep his own place free from weeds, but vacant lots on either side of him may greatly detract from the appearance of his property."

TREES OFTEN NUISANCE.

"Trees that hang over the sidewalks are a nuisance to all pedestrians and lend an unkempt aspect to the whole neighborhood. Broken fences and sidewalks should be repaired and it is the duty of such organizations as this to see that these conditions are remedied."

Roland Ayers entertained the gathering by some clever character impersonations and Miss Lois Leonhardt rendered a piano selection.

In concluding his lecture Wilbur Walker said that he would find it easier to lecture to 1000 people in Chicago at this time of year than to twenty-five people in Oakland, for the reason that it was much easier to elicit the interest of his audience did not know so much about it.

"It was not so many years ago that I helped thresh oats on this very spot," said Walker. "Today the land is covered with beautiful homes."

Meetings of the club are held monthly. The officers are: Harry East Miller, president; Dr. H. P. Carlton, vice-president; Will J. Cahill, secretary. The following are chairman of the various committees: Parks, W. M. Dwyer; civic adornment, Dr. G. B. N. Cline; schools, P. M. Greenwood; lights and police, F. C. Wright; fire and water, I. H. Clay; streets and sidewalks, James Vance; railroads and culverts, M. C. Seagrave; legal, B. S. Noyes; new members and publicity, Theo. F. Dredge. The above members compose the executive committee, of which Dr. H. P. Carlton is chairman.

TO SUE RAILWAY FOR OIL LANDS

The Government to Attempt to Recover $1,000,000,000 Worth of Property.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Suit to regain possession of 100,000 or more acres of Southern Pacific oil lands will shortly be brought in the United States District Court of Southern California. The announcement was made here today by D. M. Mills, special assistant to the attorney-general in conducting the prosecution, who will shortly join B. D. Townsend, with whom his work has been associated in Los Angeles.

Suits pending against the company touch title to land aggregating in value, according to government estimate, $1,000,000,000. In all the cases the government contends that the company secured land which it knew privately to be mineral lands. Under the law the government cannot part possession with mineral lands by grant.

HUSBAND FORGIVES AND WIFE IS FREED

John Randecker Overlooks the Deception of Bride, Who Is Given Probation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—A husband's forgiveness and affection for the wife who had deceived him and caused him two years and a broken heart, was shown this morning in Superior Judge Sergeant's court when Myrtle Randecker was reunited to John Randecker.

The young woman in the case, while still in her bridal costume, obtained $1000 from her husband and fled. She was captured some time later by the detectives and charged with grand larceny.

A jury convicted her of the offense and today she was to have been sentenced. Randecker, however, had decided to overlook the past and pleaded with the court to release her. Accordingly Judge Sergeant, who was sitting in Judge Dunne's place, granted her two years' probation and she was taken back to the family residence.

BOY PIRATES STEAL PRIVATE YACHT

The Bold Crew Is Headed by a Reform School Graduate; Ship Is 'Serpent.'

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—A pirate story of fact rivaling those of fiction, in which the $40,000 motor yacht of J. B. Hammond, millionaire typewriter man, might have reached the high seas under the black flag, came to light with the arrest of Dominico Cusilo, 17 years old.

Cusilo's arrest followed that of three other members of a "pirate" crew organized early in the autumn by "Doc" Lehman, 20 years old, graduate of a reformatory school, who stole a $2000 motorboat at Albany, brought it down the Hudson to New York, and renamed it the "Serpent," and started on a career of brigandage.

On the night of October 23 the "pirates" came along side the Hammond yacht, went aboard and in twenty minutes had her under way, headed for the open sea. What might have happened to peaceful traders did not happen, because an unsympathetic cable stretched across the entrance to the coast stopped the yacht before she had gone 100 yards. The pirates tried to pass it by going full speed ahead, but the cable was too strong. They then abandoned the yacht, returned to the "Serpent," and made off.

Those of the crew who have been arrested confessed, and as a result the police have recovered several hundred dollars worth of plunder, taken from motor yachts in night raids in a cove in Brook Mountain near Hack, N. Y. The police estimate that the "pirates" have stolen property worth at least $10,000.

100-FOOT OMELETTE IS FRIED ON PUBLIC STREET

EGG HARBOR CITY, N. J., Nov. 30.—An omelette about 100 feet long and 25 feet wide was produced on the hot asphalt pavement of the main street here when a runaway horse spilled about fifty crates of eggs out of a wagon.

The horse, which belonged to John L. Meyer, who runs a small farm back to the country, was drawing the eggs to market here, when he became frightened and ran away. The wagon was upset and Mrs. Meyer was slightly injured.

The pavement had been under a warm sun all day and when street cleaners began cleaning up the mess it was observed that the eggs had undergone a slight chemical change, such as follows when they are subjected to heat.

HONOLULU, Nov. 30.—A Honolulu silk manufacturer is making inquiry with the view of establishing at Honolulu a silk mill. A great deal of raw silk is now taken through Honolulu to the mills of the mainland and even to the mainland for the purpose of being reeled. The raw silk is carried through the Orient by way of a million dollars and silk reeling is one of the most important industries in the Orient.

MRS. WALL LOSES CUSTODY OF GIRLS

Woman Collapses When Court Awards Children to Father.

Wells and Superior Judge William H. Waste to sit with him in the hearing.

In disposing of the matter this morning Judge Waste announced that he and Judge Wells would act in the matter of Attorney Cochran's alleged contemplation of bribery.

"It is to be regretted," he said, "that such grave charges should come out of a matter pertaining to two little children. It is to be regretted that Judge Harris found it necessary to call in other judges to hear such a charge where the integrity of an officer of the court is questioned. But such matters cannot be allowed to pass unnoticed, for the whole judicial system is affected."

"In passing upon this matter," continued Judge Waste, referring to the purported attempt at bribery, "it is necessary that we consider the evidence that has been brought to us. It is needless for us to say that there can be no liberality in constructing the motives of the party in the case. We do not consider, however, that the charges have been proven. There are two sworn affidavits, one stating one thing and one another."

DISPOSE OF CHARGE.

"And there the matter stands. Unfortunately, we are unable to say that the matter is either proven or disproven. Therefore, we feel that further inquiry into the distasteful and disgraceful subject should be and is, so far as the court is concerned, disposed of."

Judges Waste and Wells then retired from the bench, and Judge Harris took up the matter of the custody of Edward Wall for custody of his children.

"In the matter of modifying the interlocutory decree of divorce respecting the custody of the children," said Judge Harris, "this case is surrounded by many complications."

"We are of the opinion that the welfare of the children will be better in custody of their father, and that will be the order of this court. The decree is hereby modified to the effect that the $50 allowed for their care is cut off."

Attorney Cochran immediately announced that he would appeal to the higher court, and asked for a continuance of 30 days in which to perfect his appeal. The request was granted.

WOULD SEE CHILDREN.

Attorney John L. McVey, representing Wall, asked when his client could obtain custody of the children. Mrs. Wall said that she could take them back to the San Rafael convent today, if necessary, but she was allowed until Monday by the court. Wall stated that he had not seen the children for a week and was anxious about them. Just where they should be kept by the father was not specified.

The story of the Wall's marital unhappiness, which came out in the courts during the hearing of the petition, was told by numerous witnesses.

It was acknowledged by Wall that he had spent a large part of his time during the last two years playing poker with the Olympic and other clubs in San Francisco. He said that he had often remained away from home at night. His wife testified to the same. As to his drinking, Wall said that he had not touched liquor for six years prior to six months ago.

After Mrs. Wall obtained her divorce she remained at the family home on Central avenue, Alameda. Her sister, Mrs. Mary F. Wilson, lived with her, and they kept Chinese cook and Miss Ethel Roache as nurse for Mrs. Wall.

WERE FREQUENT VISITORS.

Items which included large grocery bills with generous portions of liquor were ordered for the establishment. Attorney Cochran was among the frequent visitors and John Austin, visiting the hotel, according to testimony. Austin said on the stand this morning that he had remained at the request of Mrs. Wall and Mrs. Wilson, so that he could carry Mrs. Wall down and up stairs to her dinner in the evening.

After dinner Austin said he remained because the women told him that it would be unnecessary for him to make the long trip to his home. As to the charge that he assisted in distilling three gallons of whisky, Austin denied having more than three or four highballs out of that batch. He said that Mrs. Wall, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Roache and Attorney Cochran had assisted.

Mrs. Wilson was later accused of having assisted in the distilling of Attorney Cochran, believing that he was attempting to get hold of her sister's property.

Asked on the stand regarding her affidavit Mrs. Wilson said that she had suggested a corporation handling Mrs. Wall's estate for that reason.

"After I got better acquainted with Cochran I did not believe he could buy all the courts in the country," she said.

BUYS CORSET SHOP.

Mrs. Wall purchased a corset shop at Thirteenth and Broadway in Oakland following her divorce, and Cochran made frequent visits to the shop. B. P. an expert accountant, told of coming to Oakland to work on the firm's books and of taking dinner with Mrs. Wall and Mrs. Wilson at a local restaurant. He said the bill was charged to the expense of Mrs. Wall.

After Mrs. Wall mortgaged her home for $5000 to help pay for the business and for other debts. Mrs. Wilson had failed in a similar establishment in San Francisco and she and Attorney Cochran had a fight over whether an attempt had been made to avoid payment of bills.

The two sisters took opposite sides in the proceedings in court and both sides are running hot when she was on the witness stand. Twice Judge Harris had to admonish them to refrain from remarks regarding the other's testimony. Mrs. Wilson said that her sister had not given her any money.

"Don't you say that I never gave you any," exclaimed Mrs. Wall from the floor.

BOTH ARE WARNED.

She was herself admonished this morning by the court when she interrupted the testimony, while Mrs. Wilson received a similar warning yesterday afternoon.

The hearing was closed soon by the statement of Mrs. Wall, she said that at present she owed several thousand dollars. One item of her debts was $1000 owed to her sister. Edward Wall is a brother of Carlton and Richard Wall, who own the Wall Estate Company which owns the Tabor Tavern in San Francisco and the Hotel Carlton in Berkeley. The family has been socially prominent in Alameda county for many years. At present Mrs. Wall is living in the Berkeley apartment in San Francisco.

Residence being Mrs. Wall's attorney in developed during the hearing of the case recently that the attorney had been a frequent visitor to the Wall home, where on one occasion he had been followed by an unknown person. The domestic affairs threatened for a time to be brought into the light. Yesterday afternoon, however, the court took the case under advisement.

RAILWAY MEN TO BOOST HOTEL

Traffic Agents to Meet at Oakland's New Hostelry on January 7.

The California Terminal Line Passenger Association, comprising the men who care for the traveling public at this end of the continent, will meet in the Hotel Oakland January 7, 1913. Charles S. Fee, traffic manager of the Southern Pacific and chairman of the association, will preside at the meeting, according to an announcement this morning by L. A. Richardson, local district freight and passenger agent. The railroad men will obtain first hand information concerning the new hotel, its equipment and its accommodations, so that they may do their share in supplying the traveling public with information concerning the latest addition to the modern hotels of the West.

CLEANING UP APPROACHES.

Following the article in last evening's TRIBUNE concerning the possibility of converting the block opposite the Hotel Oakland into a public park, a movement was started among property owners surrounding the block to clean up their grounds and beautify the approach to the hotel preparatory to its opening. Acting as agent for the owners of the property opposite the hotel, Will M. Layman, today set workmen at work tearing down the sign above the entrance to the hotel, and clearing the approach to the hotel to people passing on Twelfth street. Between Thirteenth and Twelfth streets the Chamber of Commerce building will be ploughed up and converted into a lawn, which will add greatly to the attractiveness of the hotel approach. Similarly, other properties in the vicinity will be improved wherever possible and the entire neighborhood will "spruce up."

CONCESSION SECURED.

It was announced today that Bercoy brothers, local tobacconists, had secured the concession for cigars, periodicals and refreshments for the hotel. They will spend $2500 in fitting up quarters in the hotel corridor. Other concessions in the form of florist shop and confectionery will be leased within a few days. The hotel management will operate its own barber shop and laundry.

"DEAD" MAN CONTRADICTS HIS CONFESSED SLAYER

LAREDO, Texas, November 30.—Apollinar Donato, an aged Mexican, who was supposed to have been murdered near here recently and whose body was believed to have been thrown into the Rio Grande, appeared at the county jail and asked the sheriff to release from custody Jose Roque, who had been accused of Donato's murder.

When arrested Roque told the authorities he had killed Donato, and he gave what purported to be a detailed account of the crime. Roque's wife and two other women swore that they saw Donato alive and well after the murder.

According to the statement of Donato, he has never had any trouble with the state treasurer for the new Cambridge stadium bridge, which he will erect in memory of his father, Nicholas "Long" Donato. The legislature has approved the project annually for three years. Mr. Anderson also deposited with in which it is carefully specified just how the bridge is to be constructed, and what tablet shall be placed thereon. Under the statute, Mr. Anderson pays for the construction and the city of Boston and the city of Cambridge provide the entrances. The work is to be done under supervision of the metropolitan park commissioners. The state treasurer is also authorized to issue $50,000 bonds to take care of land damages.

STILETTO-PIERCED BODY UNIDENTIFIED

Temple Punctured and It Is Thought Italian Woman Perished in Sleep.

GEORGETOWN, Conn., Nov. 30.—No definite clue to the identity of the young Italian woman whose body, pierced with stiletto wounds, wrapped in burlap and found floating in a millpond here has been discovered. The State police have started an inquiry, and will make a search of Italian houses here, at Branchville, and Ridgefield to determine whether any woman is missing from those settlements.

The theory that revenge in connection with a recent State police raid on illegal liquor sellers in Ridgefield was behind the slaying is strongly held by the authorities, but possible "white slave" connections are being inquired into. An extended examination this afternoon showed a total of nine wounds on the body. Both temples had been pierced, and it is thought the woman was sleeping when killed.

The body was clothed in a night robe and white skirt. The head was wrapped in a man's undershirt. All the marks were bloody. The wounds, apparently, had been made by a stiletto. The body had been in the water about a fortnight, and to the end of the rope a hole had been tied. This had slipped out of a noose and the body rose to the surface. The woman was about 35 years old, 5 feet tall, with dark hair.

SHY MAN IS ARRESTED; HE BALKED AT MARRIAGE

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—Half an hour before the time set for his wedding Nathan Schmidt decided that married life was not for him. The next day he was held in $1000 bail for court.

The disappointed fiancée, Miss Mary Sherman, accuses Schmidt of obtaining money by false pretenses, breach of promise and perjury.

Miss Sherman expressed her complaint at length. She told how she and Schmidt had been sweethearts in Russia, how she had come here four years ago, getting work in a shirt factory, how she had had Schmidt's passage across, how she had given him a "job," how she had loaned him $300.

"And now he will not marry me," she ended, dramatically. "I think maybe I should think maybe I better not marry," explained Schmidt.

The charge of perjury against Schmidt is based on the immigration officials upon his recent arrival in this country that he was 21, he informed the magistrate that 19 was his age.

KICK ENDS FIGHT FOOTPAD PUT UP

A. W. Hoffman Secures Robber's Gaspipe "Billy" as a Souvenir of Encounter.

A thug armed with a heavy piece of gas pipe found his match last night in A. W. Hoffman, 1900 Fifty-fifth avenue. Hoffman has the gas pipe as a keepsake, while the thug has a large black and blue bruise where he was kicked by Hoffman in the region of his solar plexus.

Hoffman was returning home last night, shortly before dark. At Fifty-fourth avenue and Wentworth street a man leaped from behind a fence and ordered him to throw up his hands unless he wished to be branded.

"Come on and try it," shouted Hoffman, and started in the direction of the highway.

The thug made a vicious swing at Hoffman's head with his gas pipe. Hoffman ducked and before the thug could recover himself to aim another blow Hoffman kicked him in the stomach.

The would-be bandit dropped his weapon with a cry of pain and stood gasping with both hands over his stomach. Hoffman reached for the gas pipe, but the thug escaped before Hoffman could make use of the weapon.

BEWARE OF WAR
CHURCHILL'S PLEA
British Lord of Admiralty Says
Strife Would Be Among Madmen.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—"The only epitaph history could write on such a catastrophe," Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, said last night in reference to the possibility of a general war as a result of the Balkan situation, "would be that a whole generation of men went mad and tore themselves to pieces."
Churchill's remarks were made at a banquet in his honor. He said that while strong feeling naturally had been aroused between Russia and Austria over the Balkan question, a resort to war by them would be a horror utterly disproportionate to any cause existing or any compensation that might be achieved. "Christian civilization," Churchill continued, "looks across the tangles of diplomacy to the sovereignty of these august empires and asks whether kingship, in these modern democratic days, might not win for itself new luster and preeminence to the multitude of enfranchised toilers in whose hands power is being increasingly reposed the fact that the monarchy is the bulwark of European peace."
A great grief, Churchill said, separated the affairs of Russia and Austria from those of the other European powers, which had only to pursue the policy they had been pursuing, of trusting one another, and nothing could drive them from the path of sanity and honor.
A general war might plunge Europe almost into the desolation of the middle ages, he added.

GIRL LOST, FOUND AND LOST AGAIN

16-Year-Old Maiden of Fruitvale Disappears Twice Within Week.

FRUITVALE, Nov. 30.—Louise Rush, a pretty 16-year-old girl who resides with her mother at 1647 Twenty-eighth avenue, has a penchant for running away from home. Last Monday Louise disappeared. Louise turned up in Fruitvale last night, however, and was taken home by the police. She said that she had been staying during the week with one of her friends, but gave no reason why she had run away.
The police advised Mrs. Rush to keep an eye on her daughter, and thus she promised to do so. Louise ran off again last night, a short time after she had been brought home, and inquired at the house of friends where she said she stayed before. Louise said she did not go to this place on her second flight.
A description of the missing girl is as follows: Fair complexion, brown hair and brown eyes, height 5 feet 6 inches. A distinguishing mark is a cut on her upper lip.
Mrs. Rush, the girl's mother, says that her daughter had been somewhat eccentric in her behavior of late.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF PIONEERS CELEBRATED

RICHMOND, Nov. 30.—Fifty years ago in a little town in Indiana a popular belle stood beside a promising young man and the two were made man and wife. Yesterday the same couple, gray haired but strong and active, stood beside each other at their cosy home in this city and received the congratulations of scores of friends and relatives who kept pouring into the house all day.
They were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Odell, pioneer citizens of Richmond. They had spent the time together necessary for the celebration of their golden wedding jubilee. The home was decorated with a wealth of floral blossoms and ferns and three generations assembled at a bounteous feast, five children and numerous grandchildren.
Mr. and Mrs. Odell came to San Pablo in 1900 and thence to Richmond in its earlier days. Odell is 77 years of age and his wife 70 and the years have dealt lightly with both.

STEGE WOMAN ARRESTED ON BATTERY CHARGE

STEGE, Nov. 30.—Declaring that his wife had suffered a badly lacerated face and hands, that her clothing was ruined and that her hair had been pulled, Harry Kalls, a prominent contractor of this place, appeared in Justice W. F. Huber's court in this township yesterday afternoon and swore to a complaint against Mrs. Sarah Tobak, a neighbor woman, charging her with battery.
A warrant was issued and served by Constable H. F. Davis and the charges will be heard in court Monday. According to the story told by Kalls, his wife had been given permission by Contractor Meyer to remove a quantity of lumber from the barn, and when she started to remove the hay she met Mrs. Tobak and a bitter controversy between the women ensued.
Then, according to the complaint, the battery was committed by Mrs. Tobak, who dragged Mrs. Kalls around the barn by the hair, scratched her face and otherwise mistreated her. Both are well known.

NEW PHONE SYSTEM TO AID POLICE WORK

MELROSE, Nov. 30.—Melrose police station has been equipped with a new telephone system, which should facilitate the work of the police in that district, and which brings the station into line with modern requirements in that respect. Formerly it has been necessary to call on the station by connecting the station with the different police boxes, but the new installation does away with this, the boxes being directly connected with the station.

CHARLES H. HYDE IS FOUND GUILTY

Former New York Chamberlain Must Pay Heavy Penalty.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Charles H. Hyde, former city chamberlain and protégé of Mayor Gaynor, last night was convicted of bribery, the punishment for which is ten years' imprisonment or $10,000 fine, or both, at the discretion of the court.
The verdict was rendered after the jury had been in actual deliberation for four minutes.
Hyde, until a year ago, chief political adviser of Mayor Gaynor and one of the leading spirits of his administration, received the verdict of the jury sitting in the usual rule of forcing defendant and jurors to stand having been ignored in his case. He turned deathly pale, but evidenced no other sign of emotion.
The crime for which Hyde was convicted consisted of forcing President Robin of the defunct Northern Bank to make a large loan to the tottering Carnegie Trust Company on a threat that, if the money was not forthcoming, the city deposits in the Northern Bank, over which deposits Hyde had control, would be withdrawn.
Exposure of the crime came a little less than two years ago with the fall of the Carnegie Trust Company, when a number of smaller institutions, including the Robin banks, went to the wall.
Immediately after the verdict had been recorded and the formal motions for setting aside the verdict and granting of a new trial had been made, Hyde was hurried across "the Bridge of Sighs" to the Tombs.

Bing was unable to give a satisfactory description of the Chinese highwaymen.
During the absence of Detective Rogerson from his room at the Colonial hotel, 122 Broadway, a burglar broke into a Jimmie and stole jewelry and clothing valued at $62. The loot was carried away in two suitcases belonging to the victim.
Manuel Joseph of Koebe, Contra Costa county, reported the theft of jewelry valued at $25 from his room in the Lloyd house.
J. M. Hand, an employee of the Hutchinson Construction Company, reported the theft of clothing valued at $5 from the camp at Fifty-sixth and Adeline streets.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH OF UTAH MAN

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 30.—After a two days' investigation the sheriff's office here has been unable to unravel the mystery surrounding the death of Joseph Evans, whose body was found on the shores of Great Salt Lake Sunday morning.
Evans' last known whereabouts, according to a statement to a small fortune, said to have been left by his brother, Cy Beynon Evans, who died in Santa Monica, California, last spring. He left his home in Pleasant Green, Utah, on October 5 and told friends that he was going to California to claim his brother's estate. Since that time nothing has been heard from him and friends here supposed that he was in California. It has not been determined how Evans met his death.

A prominent merchant of Richmond has selected two lots on the north-east corner of the tract, where he will begin building at once.
A San Francisco clothing merchant paid cash for the corner of Nicholl and Macdonald Aves., where he will put up a building to house his branch store.
Plans are being drawn by another business man for a three-story concrete building on the corner of Nevins and Grand boulevards.
Two corners have been sold on Nevins and Macdonald, opposite the Civic Center. One will be the site of a modern apartment house and the other of commodious flats.

This tract will soon be the scene of the greatest building activities Richmond has ever seen. This is the first opportunity you have ever had to buy business property on installments.

39,000-MILE JAG BROUGHT TO END
Hard Hearted Skipper Puts a Globe Girdling Souce on "Wagon."

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—A thirty-nine thousand mile jag was brought to these fair shores yesterday, aboard the tramp steamer San Quentin six weeks out of Buenos Ayres. The author and proprietor of this distance champion of jag is Joseph R. Jordan of Santa Barbara, Cal. He was only mildly enthusiastic over his possession, for the reason that he had been compelled to tuck it away and button it up in his log book when he sailed from the City of Beautiful Airs in charge of Captain Alken, skipper of the San Quentin.
There was a hang-over attachment to young Jordan's globe girdling souce, which carried him through the early tedium of the voyage. With this gone, a low state of depression settled upon the gay and festive young man, and he got very peevish riding the water wagon. Skipper Alken bled him and kept him chained to while the ship rolled and lurched over the bounding billow. Skipper Alken, however, was merely obeying the behest of young Jordan's relatives, who had located him in Buenos Ayres and provided for his safe conduct home.
The Jordan jag set out from San Francisco two years ago. It made its first stop in Japan, when its owner awoke and wondered where he was. He had similar awakenings in Singapore, London, Calcutta, Port Said, Cairo, Liverpool and divers and sundry other ports.
It was a thirty-seven thousand mile jag that he tottered into Valparaiso, where he spent a few months getting in touch with his millionaire father. When father sent along a husky check and hurry call to come home, Jordan crossed the Andes to Buenos Ayres. In the course of this little jaunt he ran his jag up to thirty-nine thousand miles until he boarded the San Quentin. In Brooklyn friends put the world wanderer aboard a westbound train this afternoon.

DOWNFALL LAID TO MOTION PICTURES

Highway Robber Declares the "Movies" Invited Him to Crime.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—Moving picture shows caused his downfall, according to Cornelius Hadesacker, who pleaded guilty yesterday to highway robbery, after which he made a pathetic appeal for probation.
The "movies," according to the prisoner, showed him "now easy it was done," and he deserted the ranch for the highway, where he made a specialty of holding up automobiles. Judge Flynn announced that he would pass sentence on the young bandit next Friday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The railroad commission will next month hear arguments on the application of the Southern Pacific Company and the Santa Fe to increase freight rates between San Francisco, Oakland, Stockton, Sacramento and other intermediate points to stations on the Sierra Railway, including Tulelake, Jamestown and Sonoma.
The two railroads have made a joint application to be allowed to raise the rates on classes from two to three cents. The proposed increase involves shipments to the Sierra Railway only, and does not

Regulations That Don't Regulate.

The imbroglio into which the University of California student body has been plunged by the efforts of a number thereof to secure the passage of an anti-liquor clause into the constitution seems chiefly to be due to a repetition of that old failure of trying to make people fit a law instead of a law to fit a people. The larger portion of the college students were quite willing that an anti-liquor clause should be adopted as a sentiment, but are not willing to make it a rule. They seem to understand better than the minority that does favor such action that the rule will not be obeyed simply because it is a rule.

It is hardly possible on the other hand to deny that student tipping is a problem. Any university community knows it is, and in this regard California is no worse than other similar institutions; not so bad as many. Nor can it be held that the tipping is more evident because of the large number of youths gathered together in one place. There is really more of it, for that very reason. The university semester is a chapter of occasions; there is this to celebrate that, and that to celebrate this; there is a rally now, a jinks then, a fraternity "bust" a day or two later. The fact that so many young men are gathered together apart from, for the first time, the domestic bars to irregularity that have heretofore restrained them, lends additional likelihood to overstepping of the mark.

But to suppose that the mere adoption of a rule specifying that liquor shall not be used at student functions will cure this is sheerest folly. No one revolts so automatically against arbitrary regulations as a young man. College authorities have recognized this, especially here at California, and provided a student self-government as a rational substitute for the dean with a club.

The prohibition forces which are seeking the passage of a rule against drinking are perhaps a bit hasty in their scorn of possible accomplishment through the sentiment against that fault now in vogue. Sentiment has already accomplished very much at California. It has practically ended undergraduate cheating, so that the man who cheats now in an examination is especially noticeable because of his rarity. It has, in this very matter of drinking, accomplished much. The "sophomore bust" that at one time made Berkeley nights hideous at stated periods through the year and resulted in big bills for smashed windows at the California Gardens or Lincoln Hall, has passed with the cane rush and intercollegiate football to the beyond. Drinking has been largely reduced at other college functions, including those of the faculty.

It seems better, in fine, to permit the sentiment system to do all it can rather than inhibit it by substituting a rule that will be its own undoing.

The combined vote for Taft and Roosevelt approximates the vote cast for Taft in 1908. The vote cast for Wilson is a trifle less than Bryan received four years ago. The Socialist vote increased about 300,000. Hence the Democratic strength has not increased, but has triumphed because the opposition was divided.

An admirer sent Champ Clark a Thanksgiving turkey, but it was of Presidential size and the Clark oven was not big enough to roast it in. The bird had to be sent to the Congressional kitchen to be cooked. Mr. Bryan will appreciate the joke of the occurrence.

A Vallejo paper says Theodore Bell is mentioned as a cabinet possibility. If Mr. Bell cherishes cabinet ambitions, he will have an opportunity to measure the vast gulf that separates possibility from probability.

Austria Is Daring Danger.

It seems strange that Austria should invite war over the Balkan question. Of all the nations of Europe she has the most to dread and lose by a general European war. A defeat by Russia and the Balkan allies would result in a dismemberment of the empire and the extinction of the Hapsburg monarchy.

Austria has been called the polyglot empire because so many nationalities are gathered under her flag. No less than eighteen languages are spoken in the realm of Francis Joseph. Some half a dozen branches of the Slavic race are his subjects. The Czechs of Bohemia are Slavs, so are the Poles, Ruthenians, Slovaks, Dalmatians and Croats, all of whom sympathize with their Balkan brethren, and are exceedingly restive under a rule that represses their racial aspirations. Hungary is an equal partner with Austria in the dual monarchy. Francis Joseph is emperor of Austria, but he is king in Hungary. Austria is German and Hungary is Magyar. The Magyars are racially akin to the Turks, being of Tartar origin. They have no sympathy with the Slavs, and sternly suppress the Slavic sympathies of the Slav provinces attached to the kingdom of Hungary. In the Hungarian parliament the Slav deputies are perpetually at war with their Magyar masters.

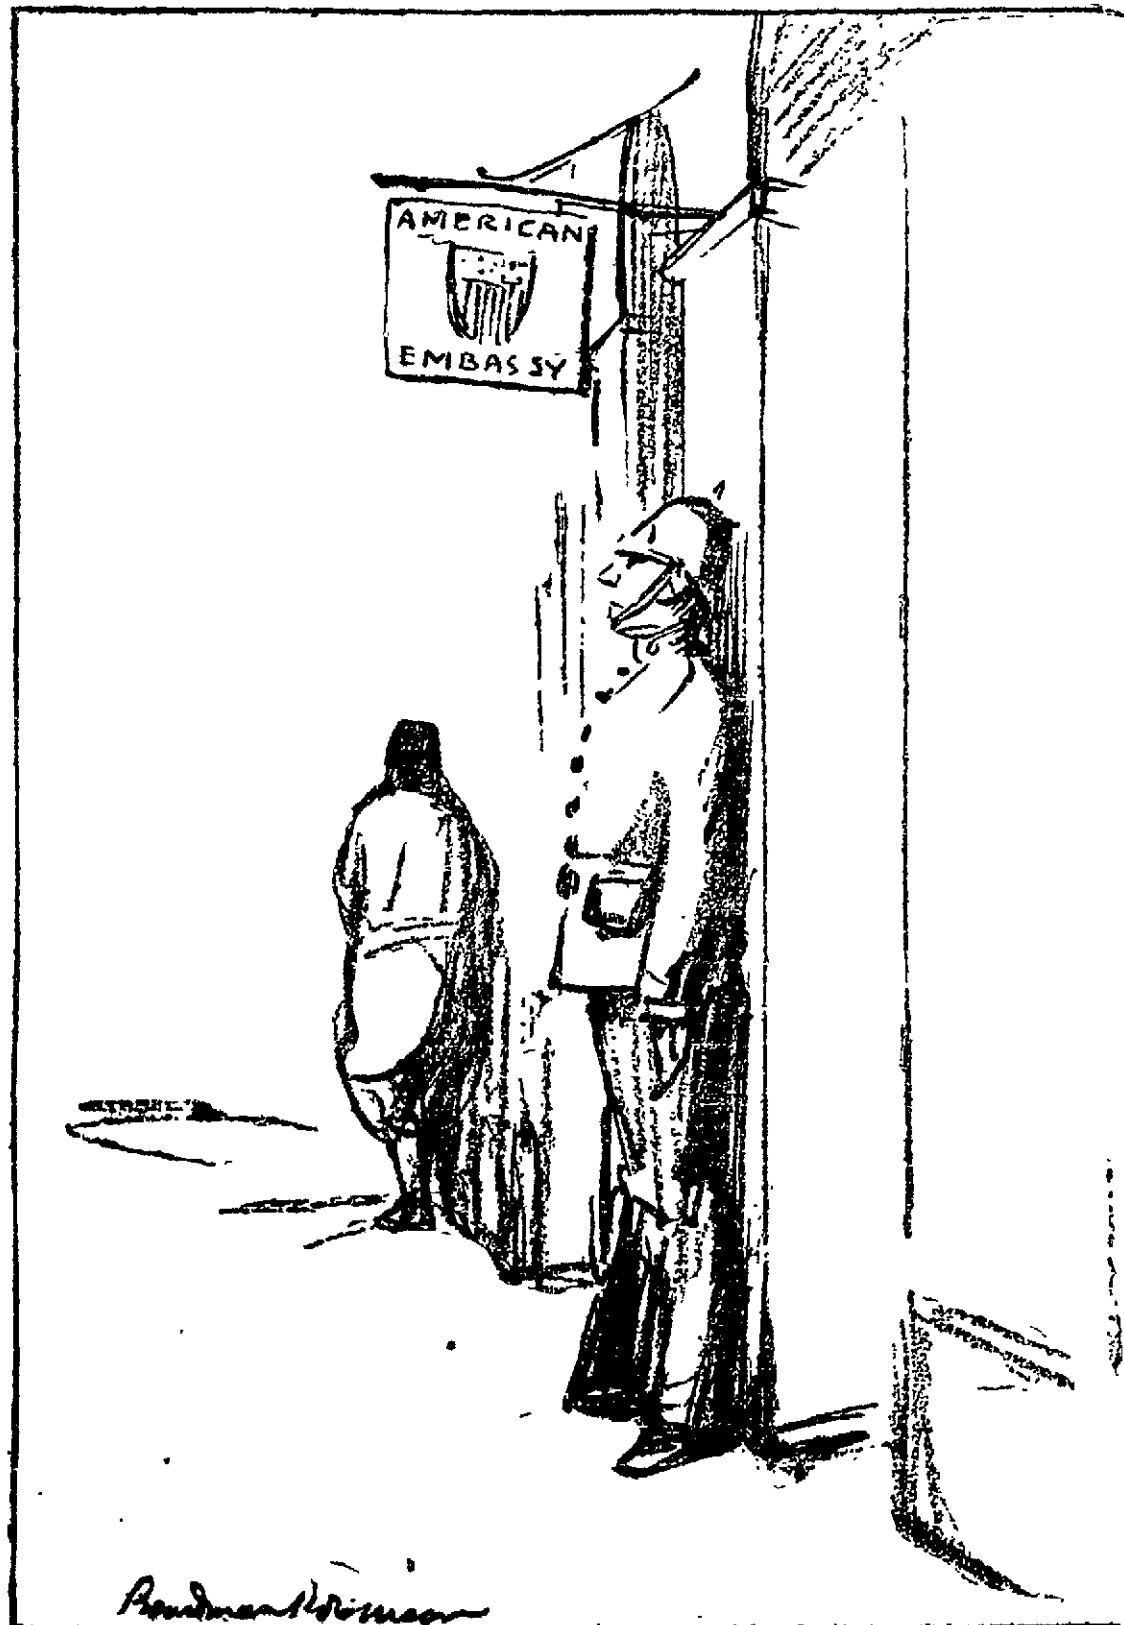

The Czechs of Bohemia are sullen and resentful over their subjection to the German element of Austria. Some two-thirds of the Bohemian population are Czechs, and the other third Germans, including Jews. Race riots are not infrequent in Prague, the conflict being between Czechs and Germans. Czech sympathy is with the Balkan allies.

There is also racial discontent in the Italian Irredenta and the Tyrol where the Italian element predominates in the population. A great war over the Balkan question, involving as it does the race aspirations of the Slavs, might cause Austria-Hungary to fall apart like a house of cards, the Slavs going with their Balkan brethren and the Italians with Italy, leaving the Magyars to form an independent kingdom or republic and the Germans to go under the flag of the German empire.

The object of preventing Serbia obtaining a port on the Adriatic is to stifle the aspirations of a Slavic power and a possible dismemberment of the Slavic provinces from the Hapsburg crown, but Austria's interference provokes discontent at home and resentment in the Balkans. After the Serbian nation in quarrel against the lightning Francis Joseph's government is inviting it. A general war would put the unity and stability of the empire to the severest test. In case of defeat, the dual monarchy would certainly lose some of the Slavic provinces and it is not impossible that the empire would be dismembered.

Some of our reformers are determined to make everybody acquainted with the details of sexual vice even if they can't eradicate it. The social evil is not a parlor or dinner table topic, but a people seem bent upon overlooking it wherever they have a chance. That should talk about it. Fortunately tastes differ.

A False Distinction.

"Human rights are superior to property rights," says an exchange. Certainly. But the history proves that human rights are never secure where property rights are insecure and unstable. No civilization is planted on firm ground unless property rights are conserved in accordance with established principles. An enduring society nor a permanent system of government cannot exist where the rights of property fluctuate and are based on ephemeral conditions and laws subject to violent and sudden change.

Rights of ownership must be respected if the social and industrial order would persist. They must rest upon basic principles or they cannot endure. Stability cannot rest on instability. Insecurity destroys value.

Acquisition may be regulated, but regulation cannot with safety go to the extreme of forbidding use or confiscating the usufruct. What a man lawfully earns or acquires the law must secure to the possessor or his heirs. If the law fail in this fundamental duty, industrial and social anarchy follows. The political system becomes disorderly and transitory. Personal liberty cannot survive where property rights honestly and lawfully acquired have no enduring basis.

Human rights and property rights are inseparable. They are so related and interwoven that they cannot be parted or be given a different tenure. One of the most fundamental of human rights is the undisturbed possession and enjoyment of what he earns or acquires in a lawful way. Take that right away and the citizen is deprived of his right to live and of the incentive which makes him strive and labor and save, and build for the future. Ownership is a human right that lies at the root of all our civil institutions. Its vindication has enabled liberty to rise above despotism, confiscation and arbitrary taxation. If human rights are construed to mean that those who do not earn and save have an equal right in the possessions of those who do earn and save—and there are some who hold to the pernicious doctrine—the tie that binds society together and gives right a meaning and liberty a foundation is unloosened, and nothing is secure.

Security is what makes property valuable. Take that away and individual liberty immediately resolves itself into the freedom of the savage. Thrift and industry would have no guarantee. Why labor and save if the man who does neither is permitted to share in the fruits of other men's labor and thrift?

BRITISHERS AND CANAL

The British government may make a great fuss over the alleged violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but the Britishers themselves are going right ahead preparing to make money through the operation of the Panama canal. Steamships are now building in British yards for the canal. The Britishers are not alone in this. Japan and India, with Panama canal connections. The Canadians are just as alive to the situation as their brothers across the water. There is now under way the creation of an important sailing station and dry dock at Port Royal, Jamaica, financed by Montreal capitalists. Port Royal is 320 miles from Colon, and it is proposed to supply vessels with coal on their way to and from the canal, as well as furnishing adequate conveniences for overhauling and repairing vessels. The British government has given the Jamaican enterprise a 25-year concession and valuable rights as an incentive in building up a plant that will divert a part of the golden stream of canal money into British pockets.

Meanwhile, in British Columbia preparations are going forward to send immense quantities of lumber through the canal to the eastern United States and Europe. At present the rate from British Columbia to Europe via Suez is $10 per 1000 feet. Through the Panama canal the rate will be about $8 per 1000. The lumber output of British Columbia in 1910 was worth $25,000,000, and barely a beginning has been made. The forest area of the province is estimated at 125,000,000 acres.

With such opportunities in sight, there need be no apprehension that the British government will become so absorbed in technical protests against American legislation as to overlook the main chance. It is the outcome of diplomatic interference on the treaty question. American ships will not fail to make liberal use of the canal.—Washington Post.

SOME BIG KILLING

In Warsaw, in Poland, a few days ago a rather uninteresting race meeting was witnessed by a unique incident. A large field of horses started in a 1000 meter sprint, and an outsider, a steed named Kobsar, won. There was nothing particularly remarkable about his winning, for outsiders occasionally win. The striking feature of Kobsar's victory, however, was disclosed when it came time to pay off the pari-mutuel bets. It was found that but one ticket had been sold on the winner. It cost the purchaser $1 and he collected $1000 on it. This is believed to be the largest sum ever won on a single ticket in the pari-mutuel's.

In the pari-mutuels in this country fortunate betters have now and then reaped rich returns. When this system was first introduced, away back in 1872, there was a race at Jerome Park. A horse called Kickjack, a rank outsider, romped home first. The mutuelist paid $1178 for each $5 ticket sold. In 1882, at Saratoga, Vapahoneta paid $1080 on each $5 ticket. Six years later tickets on Limbo for a place paid $674 each on a $5 investment.

On June 25, 1894, the mare Bettorio won at Washington Park, Chicago, at 500 to 1. A few years later Max W's backers cashed in at 200 to 1 at Aqueduct.

In the palmy days of bookmaking on the tracks about New York some playful lather of odds would chalk up 1000 to 1 against some state that was better fitted for the glus factory than for the race course. No one ever heard of the 1000-to-1 shots bringing home the money. Now and then, however, the bookmakers would be stung when they stuck up odds of 200 or 500 to 1 jestingly and found some takers. The case of May J is an instance to the point. It is still a fragrant memory along Park Row, although it occurred many years ago.

May J was a joke as a racehorse. She ran last so consistently that it was a shame to waste money for her entrant a fee. But one day the "up floated" up at 1 down Park Row this May J was out to win this day. The "house money" scoffed at it, but a few credulous persons bet what they had on the "cluck." Something happened at 1 half a dozen horses till May J came home a winner. When the new record was set it thrilled that thoroughbred as no other thing had before or since. It is still a favorite legend with the old-timers.

The most famous betting coups that have been won by the big planners have been at odds around 10 to 1. Those were the odds at which J. P. Morgan made his great "killing" on Kine Cadmus. Those were the odds at which James R. Keene won the only bet he ever made on a racehorse. His bet was on Foxhall in the Cambridge Stakes, and he won $10,000. Those were the odds when Mohawk won $100,000 for Senator Stanford at San Antonio.

Around the sports old Duchess of Montrose was particularly fond of putting her money on horses at long odds. She died in 1904 at the age of 50 years, and her betting achievements were a part of the picturesque history of the English turf. The Duchess had an income of $100,000 a year and she bet right royally. It was her custom to bet a good share of her money in the "long book." More than once she picked winners at odds of better than 100 to 1.

A contemporary of the Duchess of Montrose was Plunger Walton, famous on the race tracks of America and Europe. He backed his horse in the Derby one year. He backed his horse to the extent of $250,000 and stood to win about $2,500,000. Hopeful lost by an eyelash. The only comment that Walton made to the jockey was, "Your over eight beat you," pointing to the jockey's mustache. All the other jockeys were clean shaven.—New York Press.

CHAFIN PLANS TO DRY UP ARIZONA

Will Make Effort to Carry the State for Prohibition in 1914.

TUCSON, Arizona, Nov. 30.—E. W. Chafin, prohibition candidate for President at the recent election, announced yesterday that he would make an effort to carry Arizona for prohibition at the State election in 1914. He said he expected great aid from Arizona women, who would cast their first votes at a State election then, and added that his plan would probably be adopted in other States.

Chafin said he would submit the Prohibition plan to the voters in the form of written pledges to vote the Prohibition ticket in 1914 only on condition that the majority of the voters agree to so vote before the election.

Chafin planned to keep records of such pledges returned to him and to send them back just before election as reminders to those who gave them if a majority were obtained. He already has begun sending pledges to every man and woman in the State and to every boy and girl 19 years old, as well. He said the plan probably would be adopted by Prohibition leaders in other States before 1916.

Chafin praised the plan, because, he declared, it would prevent the voters from thinking their ballots were thrown away if cast for Prohibition candidates. They would know in advance that they had a majority, he said.

MONSTER CROWD TO SEE CRACK MOTORCYCLISTS AT EMERYVILLE

SOME OF THE DAREDEVILS WHO WILL RIDE IN THE MOTORCYCLE RACES TO BE HELD TOMORROW AFTERNOON AT THE EMERYVILLE RACE TRACK.

Arrangements were completed today for the accommodation of a monster crowd expected to be in attendance at the opening motorcycle meet tomorrow at Emeryville. It has been more than a year since a high-class motorcycle attraction has been run on any local track and followers of this sport are awaiting with zest the crack of the starter's gun announcing the start of the two-mile professional event which heads the list of the afternoon races.

As a precaution against danger of any kind ample protection will be afforded spectators. While no serious accidents are likely to occur the element of danger in the minds of the track management is such as to be guarded against.

The professional events will have as starters a splendid array. The best performers in the country are entered, among them being: Harry Cornburn of Denver, Bob Barclay of the same city, Marley Graves of Los Angeles, Lawrence Flickenstein of Kansas City, Lee Hamilton of Los Angeles, Bert Bruggemann of Dallas, Texas, Glenn Stokes of Chicago, Roy Shaw of New York and Perkins, a San Francisco rider.

CLOSE COMPETITION.
Provided they arrive in time Red Armstrong and Ed Swartz, both of Denver, will augment the list. A number of these boys are very evenly matched, making close competition a certainty.

For the amateur races close to thirty entries have been received. Harry Lorenson and Otto Walker of this city, Bud Northrup of San Jose, Walter Driver of San Francisco are among the better known competitors. The track has been scientifically prepared, rolled and scraped and is in perfect condition for the high speed tests.

The longest race of the day will be a ten-mile event and this also will be the final one of the afternoon. The transportation companies will provide extra service to handle the crowd. Spectators from San Francisco can take either the Key Route or Southern Pacific trains direct to the grounds. People from Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley can transfer direct.

SINGLE ADMISSION.
A feature which is bound to meet with favor is the single admission price for entrance to both grounds and grandstand. Before and between the races music will be furnished by a ten-piece band. The first race will start at 2:30 p. m. The officials for the day are:

Referee, Frank E. Carroll.
Judges—Volney Davis, F. L. Gurney, George Mountz, W. T. Powell, P. A. Henderson.
Timers—John Hammersmith, W. F. Dunn, J. Tormey.
Scorer—Howard F. Antrim, Dr. D. F. Mulvihill, G. E. Reed.
Starter, R. C. Westover.
Clerk of course, Roy A. Lee.
Manager of contest, A. L. Osborne.

THREE-CORNERED MARITAL TANGLE AROUSES BISHOP

Wife's Surrender of Husband to Friend Grilled by Rev. Hughes

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—"A travesty on marriage," declared Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of San Francisco yesterday, when he read the story of the divorce and remarriage of Franklin H. Wentworth, who returned to Boston with his bride yesterday.

The Wentworth romance puts all the erotic stuff written by Robert Herrick in his novel "Togetherness" away in the background.

Briefly, Franklin Wentworth and his wife and child lived together in Boston in apparent happiness. Mrs. Wentworth two years ago introduced her life-long friend, Alice Chapman, to her husband. Wentworth and Miss Chapman fell in love and Mrs. Wentworth gave up her husband, obtained a Reno divorce, Wentworth married her friend on November 8. Today all three parties insisted they were good friends.

The Boston papers made much of the story today because Wentworth and his wife talked volubly to the reporters about their singular three-cornered romance.

Bishop Hughes, who was in Boston to deliver a series of lectures before Harvard University, commented seriously on the Wentworth interviews.

BISHOP PITIES THE CHILD.
He pitied the child as the young one grows up without any knowledge of real fatherhood or motherhood.

Bishop Hughes says:
"Personally I stand squarely on the platform of the Methodist Episcopal church relating to divorce.

"That platform recognizes the validity of only such divorces as are granted on the ground of adultery as the only ground authorized by Christ himself.

"The purely civil contract conception puts nothing but sand under all our American homes. Nor does anyone who understands human nature believe that the brother and sister relation of the parted husband and wife will long continue in any real sincerity, which the child under such a mixed state of pseudo parentage is not likely to know much of real fatherhood and motherhood.

"In short, the whole affair as reported is so absurd as to leave no room for difference of opinion among those who love the home and follow Christ."

WOMEN TAKE CALM VIEW.
The Mesdames Wentworth, present and "ex," take a complacent view of their somewhat startling romance. For instance, Mrs. Wentworth No. 2 said:

"I have the highest regard for Marion Craig Wentworth, my husband's first wife. We are the best of friends.

"I also think a great deal of little Brandon.

"However, I don't think I interfered with or entered into their lives in any unfair way. Perhaps I do not feel that I was responsible for the divorce.

"I love Mr. Wentworth and he loves me. We are very happy."

Wentworth said:
"It is true that we are still all the warmest friends, my former wife and my present wife, and I intend to do everything possible for my son Brandon. I willingly consented that my first wife be given the custody of the boy, because I felt that a mother has first claim on a child, but I shall keep a watchful eye on him and see that he gets an education."

"My former wife and Miss Chapman were friends for many years before I met Miss Chapman. Mrs. Wentworth introduced me to her about four years ago. They are both public readers."

The first Mrs. Wentworth said of her surrender of her husband to her friend:
LOVES HIM WELL AS EVER.

"I love Mr. Wentworth today as fervently as ever I did. He is my dearest friend and comrade. Why should he not be? I shall always look up to him. And Miss Chapman, his new wife, is one of my dearest friends."

"I felt it was my duty to them, to him, to our child and to myself. Miss Chapman was often at our home. I noticed Mr. Wentworth's deep attachment for her about two years ago. I thought it all over very carefully. I discussed it with Mr. Wentworth. He was frank with me and I with him.

"Miss Chapman figured in some of these conferences. She was honorable in her stand. They admitted their love for each other. Miss Chapman said she would go away from us. She said she was willing to go to the end of the world, but what sense would there have been in that?"

VETERANS WOULD ELECT OFFICERS

Declare Conditions at Sawtelle Home Foster Too Much Snobbery.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—Declaring that the present system of appointing officers fostered a condition of snobbery and created an unbridgeable gap between officers and members, old veterans sheltered in the national home at Sawtelle proposed to the Senate investigating committee today a system of election. The veterans want to elect their own officers, from governor of the home down to barrack captains, and they assert they did not want any "young civilians" who would "lord it" over them.

Andrew J. Buttorf, who acted as spokesman for the veterans, appeared before the committee and said the members of the home not only wanted elective officers, but desired to have the power of recalling all officers and to initiate any measures or reforms which they deemed necessary for their comfort and well being.

The inquiry by the senatorial committee into conditions at the home was completed today so far as the taking of testimony as to abuses and inefficiency was concerned. However, the officers of the home will be invited to testify regarding the other side of the question before the members of the committee depart.

A J. Bailey, a railroad engineer, Bakersfield, Ark., said: "I suffered with kidney and bladder trouble so bad I was unable to do my work. I was advised by my local physicians with no result but Foley's Kidney Pills have done wonders for me. I recommend them to all." Witness: DUG STICK.

COFFIN CONCEALS CHINESE SLAVES

Customs Inspector Finds Hiding Place of Smuggled Girls.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—When four Chinese slave girls were captured coming off the Nippon Maru a few days ago, it was believed that they had been secreted in the coal bunkers during the voyage from Shanghai to this city, but yesterday Customs Inspector Verney while searching the ship for opium discovered what he believed was the hiding place of the girls. He found in the rice locker on the stowage deck on the starboard side a nook covered with a Chinese coffin, which had been turned upside down and placed in a hole in a pile of mats of rice and concealed by mats of rice piled on top of it.

Parts of dress worn by Chinese women and toilet articles were found under the coffin.

The only person who had a key to this room, according to a statement made by Verney to Deputy United States Surveyor Charles A. Stephens, was the Chinese cook of the steamer, who occupied a room opposite the rice locker with Leung Moon, the Chinese interpreter, under arrest for attempting to smuggle the women into this country.

The matter was taken up for investigation by Special Treasury Agent W. H. Tidwell, with a view of securing evidence that would warrant the arrest and prosecution of the cook.

Lipton Was Game

Miss Maude Lillian Berri was among those present the night St. Thomas Lipton was entertained at the Press Club. Miss Berri went to the piano to play her own accompaniment for a Scotch song, and St. Thomas gallantly stepped forward to arrange the music. This brought his head quite close to Miss Berri's, whereupon she turned around to the throng in the parlors room and said, "He isn't game."

Again St. Thomas stepped to turn the music for Miss Berri, and again she turned and laughingly said: "He hasn't done it yet." Later in the evening St. Thomas approached Miss Berri, took her by the hands and said: "Miss Berri, there seems to be some doubt in your mind as to whether I'm game. Let me set that doubt at rest here and now." And he did by giving her a hearty kiss.—Town Talk.

Her Troubles Are Numerous

Unfortunately, Mrs. Cornelia Baxter Travis' troubles came thick and fast upon her. This time it is Mrs. H. Sellars McKee, the mother of her last husband, A. Hart McKee, who has brought suit in a French court, and has had her six-year old baby taken from her on the ground that she is unfit to bring up her own child. The little, helpless lad has been given to Professor Chauvret to live in his family and be educated. Nothing that ever comes into the life of a woman can compare with the anguish that attaches itself to such a proceeding. Little golden-haired Cornelia Baxter, as she romped and rode on her father's cattle-manches, as the daughter of a State governor and the granddaughter of a Ten-

Deprived of her husband, the late Hugh Tevels, at the age of twenty, this undisciplined girl found herself the mistress of millions. Her wonderful beauty was commented on in Europe as well as

In America, and extravagant press notices turned her golden head. In the early years of her widowhood, she met the fascinating A. Hart McKee, millionaire son of the Pittsburgh plate glass king. Their disastrous courtship and wedding is too well known to every one. Mrs. McKee has had a feverish life in Paris, where her name has been coupled with titled foreigners in a way that reflects little credit to her.

San Francisco feels an interest in this unfortunate woman, as her income is derived from San Francisco realty industries. However, the separation from her child may discipline that impetuous nature that brooks no interference from her family.—News Letter.

Miss Anna Peters

Miss Anna Peters, who made such a dashing Captain Peacock in the "Campus Mouser" was the lucky one to catch the bride's bouquet at the Keeney-Chamberlain wedding, and as she has a most ardent suitor—to be more explicit, I might say one who wears brass buttons and anchors—old Dame Rumor is shaking her head. Miss Peters is an acknowledged beauty, and has the distinction of being called by Charles Dana Gibson the beauty of California. She has been known to remark that she would get fifty proposals before she accepts any, but as she has scoundrels by the score that may not be a idle jest.—The Wasp.

A Borrowed Birthday

Mrs. Bourke Cockran, a Native Daughter of the Golden West, celebrated her birthday during the month in New York though she was born on a Christmas Day. When a very little girl, in California Mrs. Cockran was a friend of Robert Louis Stevenson. She was lamenting one day that her birthday came on Christmas, and said that it was mean, because it was a day that everybody celebrated, and she was entitled to a birthday all to herself.

The Meddler

MUCH of Oakland's mid-winter social life will center around the Hotel Oakland, the opening of which is being most eagerly anticipated on all sides. The hotel will be formally opened in a happy and most appropriate manner by a brilliant dinner given in December. There have been rumors afloat that our big hotel was to be opened by a large hall, to which "patronesses" would send out invitations. Many balls may be planned for the winter, but none of them will open our big hotel. It will be formally opened, as it ought to be, by the stockholders, who have so bravely struggled with the big project in the past few years. Now that their experiment has assumed definite shape, that their architectural dream has been realized; it is fitting that they should lead the rejoicing that may well mark the initiation of a new hotel regime in our city.

The dinner will be a brilliant affair and the only regret to bring any shadow at all is that the great hotel could not be larger, so that all who wished to join in the great celebration might be made most cordially welcome.

The hotel is along very beautiful lines, and those who know compare it favorably with the Fairmont and the Palace; in many ways for entertaining it is superior to the Palace, which has only the great court in which large entertainments may be given. The other apartments are not at all artistic.

The ball room in the Hotel Oakland is superbly proportioned; the coloring is exquisitely planned, and the classical pillars, with their fine lines add a sense of grace and dignity both charming and effective. There is another large hall, equally beautiful, and so quietly has this work been accomplished that the hotel will be a great revelation to those who see it for the first time.

Already its success is assured, for dances and card parties are being scheduled, and one hears that they extend straight through the winter.

The opening of the great hotel is a good augury; for in the background lie the village days; before us stretches a great metropolitan city.

All hail to the great Hotel Oakland, in the heart of our City of Opportunity!

RED CROSS SEAL WORK IS WORTHY CHARITY.

In New York, in London, in Paris, in metropolitan cities everywhere, charity affairs absorb the attention of the smart set, though they are no longer called "charity" affairs. They are philanthropic experiments, wisely planned and ably carried into effect. They represent benevolence in its best form, for they carry the great spirit one finds in that quotation from Lowell:

"Not what we give, but what we share;

For the gift without the giver is bare."

And so we have our Christmas seal work, our doll show, our kindergarten card party, and our "Jappy-land" for the new hospital.

The Christmas Red Cross seal work is very far-reaching, planned along national lines. President Taft is also its president, and the work will go on in every state in the Union. Most of our money is to remain here, and there is a courage and bravery in our fight that challenges admiration on all sides. The time was, and not so long ago either, that people were afraid of this great white menace. No one wanted to mention it. That time, happily, has passed, and every mother who looks at her dear ones just lines up in the ranks for their defense. Instead of a dread fear, there dawns upon the horizon the shining measure of victory, and every one is so full of hope, of courage, that the fight is sure to be won. And there is strength in numbers, and a great army is advancing, and, step by step, the enemy is retreating, and we know that although perhaps it may be far off, the end is still in sight.

There must be leaders, of course, and in this holiday time, under our standard, stands brave Mrs. Mark Requa, and our hearts go out to her in abundant measure for her loyal support of the Red Cross seal work, which will mean so much to many homes in the land.

The Red Cross seals appeal to every one because they are not a burden; one cent each given by thousands of people would make an amount worth while. The great army will bear the burden together, and so it will not fall heavily on any of our shoulders. Any one can buy a few Christmas seals and some people are buying a great many, so one's duty is being very successful. A wonderful the matter and one's pleasure is very evident.

Mrs. Mark Requa is very bravely standing in a place of great responsibility this year, and one is very glad that she has the support of those who can loyally help her and who represent the great good will of the community. Her outline of work is arranged in a broad and very comprehensive way, and a fine result is anticipated. It might be the beginning of a work that would challenge the attention of the world, and we all know that Oakland has begun to stand for big things. Perhaps this might be one of the greatest of them all.

CHRISTMAS SUNDAY TO BE GREAT EVENT.

Mrs. Requa and her executive committee are arranging their first large date for next Sunday. "A Spirit of Christmas Sunday" they have named it. They have asked the general public to be present at a meeting in Ebell hall—a meeting arranged along educational lines. Every one will be welcome and the meeting is called for 4 o'clock. One of the speakers will be Dr. Philip King Brown of San Francisco, one of the noted ex-perts of our day, who will give a most instructive, uplifting talk on the various experiments which are proving to be very successful. A wonderful sanitarium is immensely successful over in Fairfax, Marin county, and already the pottery made by the inmates is going far to defray the expenses of the establishment.

The other speakers are well-known men of our community, Judge-elect Danahy, Dr. Bates, Dr. van Allen and Rev. Clifton Macon.

A large attendance is hoped for, since the meeting will be along such educational lines and so thoroughly interesting—truly a good way to begin a holiday in which lies the heart of a "Spirit of Christmas Sunday."

On Monday afternoon there is to be a tea at the Ebell club at 2 o'clock, when the work of the captains will be definitely outlined and the further plans of the organization.

The coming days will be very busy ones for many of our prominent women. All the large clubs are enlisted in the cause, and the Ebell, Home, Oakland and Civic Center clubs are contributing many fine workers.

H. C. Capwell, Mrs. A. D. Thomson, the Misses Herrick, are all at the heads of leading lines of work. In Berkeley Mrs. Walter Seaver is meeting with the greatest success, and in Alameda popular Miss Ruth Tisdale is at the head of the work.

Over in Fremont the women's Improvement Club will prove a helpful factor—and the holiday time will be made brighter because of the radiance shed upon it by the light of a great, helpful effort for those dependent upon us.

Donovan, and she is making a most attractive picture these days, as her trousseau gowns are very handsome. She is so pretty and happy that she carries off many honors in the social affairs of the early winter.

MANY TO BE HOSTESSES AT BRIDGE GAMES.

December bids fair to be the banner month for bridge games, and among the hostesses already announced for the month are Mrs. Thomas Crollin, Mrs. Bert York, Mrs. George Rodolph, Miss Alice Knowles, Mrs. Philip Clay, Mrs. C. Percy Murdoch, Miss Elizabeth Orrick and Mrs. Dillman. One hears, also, that other bridge dates are to be announced, making December a month of cards, as well as of dances and holiday joys.

WINTER COTILLON TO DANCE AGAIN.

will give at her delightful home on Hillside avenue.

Even though it seems to be ahead of time, many are sending out their invitations for New Year's eve so as to be sure of their guests. Among the hostesses will be Mrs. John Darling, who has the reputation of always speaking her mind, and of being one of the frankest women in the exclusive smart set.

Mrs. Darling is sending out cards announcing frankly "a rag masque," which she will give on New Year's eve in the Hotel Stewart. Mrs. Darling will entertain in honor of her grandson, Clinton la Montaigne.

Many members of the Country Club always look forward with interest to the dance given on New Year's eve. It being one of the notable affairs of the winter. There are many dinners, and later in the evening there is a dance, and the many guests say good-by to the old year at the time that they offer a glad welcome to the happy young new year.

MRS. CLAY TO HONOR MRS. J. J. DONOVAN.

Mrs. Philip Clay has asked many friends to be her guests on the afternoon of December 10, and she will entertain in honor of Mrs. John J. Donovan, who is one of the most attractive and one of the best-loved brides of the year. All their friends are delighted that the Philip Clays have decided to remain on this side of the bay this winter. They spent last season at the Fairmont, where they charmed Miss Madeline Clay.

Mrs. Clay is a delightful hostess, unaffected, unselfish and unspoiled. This is one of many complimentary one have danced together for many seasons, their club beginning years ago in informal dances given in the drawing-rooms of the members. A large, square face may have the hair dressed on the crown of the head, providing the face is not too long. A long, square face should have the hair dressed low and well puffed out at the side. A thin face should always have the hair puffed out as widely as possible at the sides. A face with a receding chin and a large nose should never have the hair dressed in Grecian style, no matter how modish it is, and this refers to all faces with large noses. Faces with prominent noses should have the hair fluffed about the face, but otherwise dressed as flatly as possible. The Greek type of hairdressing is only becoming to those with regular profiles and with rather a small, straight nose. The prettiest and by far the most fashionable hairdressings of the season are flat. The coiffure may be high or low, as is most becoming, but the front effect should be flat, whether the hair is parted or worn pompadour. Remember, even if the hairdressers' windows show heads with astonishingly draped coiffures the smartest style for you is the most becoming style.

washing to prevent its tangling or breaking. The head should then be wet with warm water to soften the scalp before applying the mixture for shampoo, and be rubbed gently with the hands and finger tips; the scalp should never be scratched with the nails, and excessive surface friction should be avoided during the process of washing. The lather formed should be worked thoroughly through the hair, and over the scalp before rinsing. It may be used several times in clear water. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall be glad to send you a shampoo for oily hair. It promotes a healthy action of the glands, dissolves the scales of the pores, and is thorough in its cleaning properties.

DISCOURAGED—I greatly fear that you are too old to grow much taller, although I have known of young women adding to their height up to their nineteenth- or twentieth year. You should eat plentifully of good, nourishing food and use in such a manner as will stretch the body. A good exercise is to stand by the wall of a room or the door and reach up as far as you can while standing on tiptoe. Begin with the hands placed on the wall and gradually place one hand above the other until you cannot possibly reach any farther, while standing on tiptoe. Repeat the exercise a number of times and if it does not make you much taller, I will give you a good figure. This is about all you can do to make yourself taller.

W. N.—I shall be glad to send you the formula for an astringent salve for the lips if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.* You may possibly achieve something in reducing the thickness of the lips by massaging them. Do it persistently night and morning for ten minutes. Pinch the lips together with the thumbs and fingers with a kneading motion. Then exercise them by compressing them together. Another exercise is to purse the lips tightly together and then draw back the corners of the mouth so as to put the lips on a stretch. Be careful not to pull the lips at the corners. Biting the lips will enlarge them and also will make them chapped and colorless.

W. A.—Young girls should wear short hip corsets, if slender, to permit of development. For all girls up to 18 a lightly bound, well made bodice is all sufficient, loosely laced. The thin woman should wear a corset with a high bust and short hip. The long waisted, stiff affair makes her look thinner, creates an undefined waist line, and renders it impossible for her to keep her skin in place, but sags down the hips and loins. Be sure the bust and short hips are amply full. To appear to have a slender waist in a long corset requires much more lacing in of the waist than were in a short corset, because the untrammelled hips and bust make the waist appear smaller. The attempt to lace in a long corset causes not only bad lines but poor health as well. This means three or four long and three last and the three first eyelets.

because if they do not, as the leather stretches, the shoe will become too loose and in consequence the foot will slip down into the toe.

MRS. T. B.—The wax often gathers inside the ears, and care should be taken to remove it. This should be done gently. Some people have a habit of digging out their ears with either their fingers or pointed instruments which come for the purpose. Serious injury can be done to the delicate structures of the hearing apparatus if such things are not used carefully. The canal of the ear should be cleansed with a ball made by winding a bit of cotton around a small toothpick. The little folds and creases of the ears should also be carefully gone over.

shaped strip made of wire wrapped with black velvet. The heavy velvet bandeau is a thing of the past and it has a tendency to pinch the hair too high on the head in these times when it should come down well over the low dressed hair.

The really up-to-date milliner nowadays makes a science of fitting a hat. She learned that trickiest trade from Susan Talbot, one of the famous milliners who made the milliner's frame is first made according to measurements. And the patron comes in, usually protesting for a fitting.

The patron always thinks it is an unnecessary performance, but the milliner is as careful as a dressmaker to have every feature brought out.

N. N.—The interval between shampoos should vary with the character of the hair. If naturally extremely oil, not more than ten days or a fortnight should intervene, but if the hair is dry it may be left for a period of three weeks or even a month. The hair should be parted in the middle and braided in loose strands before

OAKLANDER HONORED AT NOTABLE LUNCHEON

ATTORNEY A. A. MOORE SR. IS GUEST AT DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

W. F. HERRIN IS HOST AT CLUB

A. A. MOORE SR., THE DISTINGUISHED LAWYER, GUEST OF HONOR TODAY AT LUNCHEON AT PACIFIC-UNION CLUB.

Close Friends of Prominent Member of Bar Bid Him Farewell.

Lawyer and Family Will Spend the Winter in Egypt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Attorney William F. Herrin, chief counsel for the Southern Pacific Railway Company, was the host at a delightful luncheon given as a testimonial of his esteem for Attorney A. A. Moore Sr., one of the most prominent lawyers of the California bar, at the Pacific Union Club today.

A party of eight, all of whom have been close friends for many years, assembled around a gaily and beautifully decorated table in one of the nooks of the city's most fashionable club, and while there was no formal speech-making there were many remarks of appreciation and many wishes extended for God-speed on Moore's vacation trip. Those present besides the host and the guest of honor were:

Garrett McEnerney, Peter F. Dunne, Stanley Moore, William M. Abbott, Thornwell Mullally, M. S. Michael.

Moore, who resides in East Oakland, has long been an associate counsel of the Southern Pacific Company and has represented that corporation in many of the most important trials and suits for damages in which it has been involved. As a pioneer lawyer of the Pacific Coast he has long been closely affiliated with Herrin and with most of the others who were present, and the affair took on almost the form of a family gathering.

Moore, with his wife and two daughters, is about to leave for a tour of Europe and expects to spend the winter in Egypt. A number of his friends have sought to entertain him and give him a proper "send-off" before he leaves tomorrow, and none of the several affairs in which he has been the central figure was more enjoyable or delightfully informal than the luncheon today.

PROGRESSIVES OUSTED BY TAFT

Two U. S. Marshals in Texas Accused of "Pernicious Political Activity."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—President Taft, through the department of justice, today removed from office Eugene Nolte, United States marshal for the western district of Texas, and D. B. Lyon, marshal for the eastern district of that state.

Both were removed "for the good of the service" and were charged with "pernicious political activity" in behalf of Colonel Cecil Lyon, former chief of the national committee of the Texas Republican party, who was the leading opponent of Colonel Roosevelt in that state. J. McDowell of Del Rio was named to succeed Nolte and Philip J. H. of El Paso to succeed Lyon. The removals were the first President Taft has made for "pernicious political activity" since the election.

CORNER STONE OF UNION HIGH SCHOOL IS LAID

Hayward Celebrates at Site of Magnificent New Building

HAYWARD, Nov. 30.—The culmination of years of effort to gain an institution such as the new Union High school was witnessed at Hayward this afternoon, the occasion being the laying of the cornerstone of the magnificent new school, which is to be an impressive landmark on the Pothill boulevard.

In today's ceremony the local high school trustees, who have done so much in achieving the good work, took a proud and prominent part. The board members present were E. O. Webb of San Lorenzo, president; I. B. Parsons, Castro Valley; R. Reid, Hayward; secretary; H. L. Fidderson, Valle Vista; and N. F. Nelson, Russell.

The site of the new school, the Russell tract, was this afternoon the rendezvous of prominent educators from all parts of the state, who were there to pay tribute to the enterprise of those districts composing the grammar school union, Hayward, San Lorenzo, Castro Valley, Palmdore, Edendale, Independent and Redwood.

The following is the program of events, which started at 2:30:
Music by Hayward Band; remarks by I. B. Parsons, member of the Board of High School Trustees; singing by pupils of the high school and grammar schools of the district; remarks by Geo. W. Frick, county superintendent of schools; music by Hayward Band; oration by P. J. Crosby, president of Social Service Association; laying of cornerstone by E. O. Webb, president of Board of High School Trustees; singing by scholars; selection by Hayward Band. The songs rendered were "Union Jack," "California," "March of the Woods," and "America."

The history of the Union High School No. 3, which has built the new school, is one of progress and development. It was organized in 1883 under the high school act passed in the previous year.

The first trustees were John Garretson, I. B. Parsons, J. C. Jensen, John J. Jensen, Edmund Hathaway, J. Habernig and Ed Brown, being a member for each of the seven districts constituting the original high school union.

The original building for the use of the high school was a plain four-room wooden structure with basement, located on A street, below Watkins.

When completed the new building, which occupies a site of seventeen acres, will have cost $225,000, although at present only about $85,000 will be spent.

One of those who has helped to bring about the change in educational accommodation was F. P. Johnson, principal of the present High school.

SUFFRAGIST OUTBREAK SERIOUS

Shoe Hurlled at Judge and Horsewhip Used on Another Man in Scotland

Outbreak Follows Arrest of Women With Explosives in Music Hall

ABERDEEN, Scotland, Nov. 30.—Militant suffragettes brought about two scenes of extreme violence today in which a woman's shoes and a horse-whip were used as weapons.

The first outbreak occurred when three of the women, Joyce Locke, Fanny Parker and Mary Pollock, who had been caught last evening in possession of explosives in the music hall where Chancellor Lloyd-George was to speak, were brought up before the magistrate.

After hearing the evidence the magistrate remanded them for further inquiry. As he informed them of this, Joyce Locke removed her shoes and hurled one of them at the magistrate's head and threw the other at the head of the clerk of the court. She was promptly committed for contempt of court.

USES HORSEWHIP.
The second outrage was committed by one of the members of a party of suffragettes who were waiting at the railroad station for the departure of Chancellor Lloyd-George.

The woman mistook the Rev. Forbes Jackson for the chancellor of the exchequer in disguise and lashed him across the face with a heavy horsewhip. She was at once arrested.

U. S. Declares Presence of Ships at Vera Cruz Has no Significance.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The proposed visit of four American battleships to Vera Cruz, which is reported to have caused some apprehension in Mexico, is entirely without political significance.

It was stated at the navy department today that the battleships Kansas, Michigan, Vermont and South Carolina will touch at Vera Cruz as one of the seaports included in the itinerary of gift ports to be visited by this section of the fleet.

The vessels will reach Vera Cruz December 12 and leave two days later. They will make no other Mexican port.

The explosion tore a large hole in a rear door to the home of the negro fighter. The police are investigating the explosion.

HEAD OFF HERD OF ELK.

LIVINGSTON, Mont., Nov. 30.—To prevent a recurrence of last season's slaughter of elk, United States troops from Fort Yellowstone have been ordered to a three-day battle along the boundary lines of the Yellowstone National Park. The echoes of the hills are continually awakened by the firing of blank cartridges in an effort to head off the herd which because of heavy snow and early rains are forced to cross the borders into the lowlands, where hunters are waiting. The season closes December 1.

MISS DOROTHY TISDALE TO BE BRIDE ANNOUNCES HER ENGAGEMENT AT TEA

MISS DOROTHY TISDALE, WHO HAS ANNOUNCED HER ENGAGEMENT TO PAUL GARDINER OF LOS ANGELES. —Scharz Photo.

Popular Girl Will Wed Paul Gardiner of Los Angeles Some Time in February

Another bay city belle has surrendered to Cupid. Local society was given a surprise today when Miss Dorothy Tisdale, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Tisdale, prominent Alameda folk, announced her engagement to Paul Gardiner of Los Angeles, son of the late Judge and Mrs. William Paul Gardiner.

The interesting piece of news was told this afternoon at the tea which Miss Dorothy and Miss Ruth Tisdale gave at the family home between the hours of 4 and 6.

Dainty engraved engagement cards were presented to each guest at the door and the pretty bride-elect was overwhelmed with good wishes. She is one of the most popular society girls of the Encinitas city and will be made the motif for numerous social compliments before her marriage, when will take place some time in February. Gardiner is connected with the Pacific Coast planing mill in Los Angeles and also has large orange interests in the south. He has been a frequent visitor in the bay cities, where he has many friends.

There was a large receiving party today to welcome the guests, and the house, garlanded in Christmas wreaths and beryls, together with autumn foliage, made a picturesque setting for the many attractive gowns worn. Assisting in the receiving line were: Miss Emma Lemcke, Miss Edith Cramer, Miss Clara Franck, Miss Helen Anthony, Miss Mildred Lansing, Miss Hazel Holt, Miss Rita Burke, Miss Marjorie Emmons, Miss Gladys Emmons, Miss Marjorie Tisdale, Miss Ethel Plummer, Mrs. L. R. Weinmann, Mrs. Florence McElroy, Mrs. Alfred Durnee, Miss Edna Hickok, Miss Loraine Jordan, Mrs. Harry Welke, Miss Marquerite Durney, Mrs. William Bacon, Mrs. Alan Field, Mrs. Frederick Stewart, Mrs. E. 100,000 LOTTERY TICKETS SEIZED

Two Tons of Paper in Fifty Boxes Taken by Police in Raid.

Over two tons of lottery tickets were seized by the police this morning in a raid upon the lottery place at Second and Harrison streets, where Sam Lee, the proprietor of the place, was arrested on a charge of selling lottery tickets. The seizure of tickets was the largest ever made by the Oakland police department. Fifty large boxes containing the little yellow slips of paper were taken.

The raid was made before 6 o'clock this morning by Sergeant Frank Ahern and Patrolman Lohsen. The police went to the place to arrest Sam Lee for selling lottery tickets. On investigating in the rear of the store they found boxes piled high in a secret shed. The boxes contained more than 100,000 lottery tickets.

Lee was released on $200 bail. The case was put over to file complaint, December 2, being set for arraignment. The lottery tickets have been piled up in the back yard of the store. The police require a man to carry them from the truck into the jail yard. The tickets will be destroyed.

BIG WILDCAT LEAPS AT HUNTER

Wounded Animal Rips Coat of Sportsman When It Jumps at Him.

Prepares for Second Spring When Bullet Puts End to Its Life.

SAN LEANDRO, Nov. 30.—An Oakland sportsman, Louis Perlo, had an exciting experience with a huge wild cat which attacked him while he was out on a hunting expedition on the hills back of San Leandro yesterday afternoon. Perlo had a narrow escape from being severely clawed by the infuriated cat and it was only when he had given it its quietus in the shape of a well-directed bullet that it desisted from the attack.

Perlo at the time he met with his adventure was making his way along a lonely part of the hills near Lake Chabot and had his eyes open for game. As he was passing under a tree his attention was attracted by a noise overhead, and looking up saw a wild cat glaring down at him. Perlo fired at the cat, hitting it on the foot. The snarling, spitting brute, maddened by pain, launched itself from the tree right at Perlo's head. Its formidable claws just missed his face and ripped a piece out of his coat. The cat, although hampered by its injured foot, made ready to spring again, but Perlo's second shot put an end to its career.

Tail is going to have the skin of the wild cat stuffed as a memento of an exciting encounter. San Leandro sportsmen who saw the animal after it had been shot say it is one of the biggest specimens they have seen in the district.

ALAMEDA

TO BROAD GAUGE SAN JOSE LINE

Oakland Traction Company to Make Long-Petitioned-for Improvement.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 30. — Broadgauging of the High street and San Jose avenue branch line of the Oakland Traction company's Alameda service was promulgated at a meeting of the city council today as a committee of the whole last night. The report of the committee was made by Assistant General Manager P. Potter. Potter stated that with certain understandings agreed upon the work will commence at once and will be completed by March 1.

The Principal stipulation is the lessening of the service from a seven to a four minute run. The company also agrees to remove an engine house located at the northwest corner of High street and Santa Clara avenue. The company also agrees to discuss the change in service and Potter explained that as a small branch line it was not profitable and that the line was only run at a loss. He stated that the company was now engaged in broadgauging and modernizing the road, but would not feel justified in operating two lines on the same track now occasioned if the improvement is made.

He, therefore, offered to make the improvements, but insisted that until the district was broadgaged the service would be run over the two mile stretch. On this basis the council agreed to accept the proposition.

Several other railroad matters came up for consideration and discussion.

The city clerk was instructed to employ help to complete the work of indexing the old records of the city. These records, which are stored away in boxes without any index to the contents, will be indexed.

The city attorney was referred a proposition for the paving of the east end of Briggs avenue and Central avenue near Normandie boulevard.

A communication was received from the Southern Pacific company stating that the proposed side walk at the station at Lincoln park station, on city property.

A petition from property owners in the vicinity of Buena Vista avenue and St. Charles street, requesting that permission to move an old house into the neighborhood be denied was received and filed.

A number of routine street matters were discussed.

SUSPENDED JUDGMENT IN CASE OF TODD

Judgment was suspended by Judge George Samuels in the case of Charles Todd, charged with the murder of a woman.

Todd, a medical student 30 years of age, living at 2178 Grove street, who pleaded guilty to the charge of having discharged a revolver while juggling with Max P. Schultz, a coolie in room at the same address. Todd explained that he had not intended to discharge the weapon, but that it had gone off when he struck Schultz on the head with the weapon.

Schultz had been out drinking and had started a fire on the floor of his room when he returned about 1 o'clock in the morning. Todd objected to having the charges against him and his brother-in-law, Schultz, by striking him with the revolver. Todd stated that he had not been drinking, and had been home all the evening. Schultz was arrested for being drunk and later dismissed.

BUY TICKET FOR NEWSIES' DANCE

Street Merchants Sell Pasteboards for Affair to Increase Christmas Dinner Fund.

Tickets are selling rapidly for the newsboys' dance on Saturday evening, December 21, but there remain quite a few to be sold before the Christmas dinner for the newsies of Oakland is a certainty. The lads engaged in "rushin' de poppers" have been promised dinners in the past, but generally these promises were made of thin air, and that is far from satisfying to an appetite engendered by long hours of action in cold weather.
